IN THE HANDS OF TWO BRUTES.

Horrible Treatment of Little 9-Year-Old Georgia Monroe.

RESCUED BY A BRAVE MAN.

Charles Monroe Permitted Drunken Edward Elton to Take Liberties With His Stepdaughter.

The Black Maria took a pair of scoundrels out to the Work-house Tuesday morning to expiate on the rock-pile one of the most fiendish crimes that was ever perpetrated in St. Louis. They are Charles C. Monroe and Edward Elton, convicted in the Second District Court of an atrocious assault on Monroe's little 9-year-old step-daughter, Georgia.

When the men were arraigned both entered a plea of guilty. Judge Stephenson then heard the little girl's statement and the testimony of August Bierman, who was foremost in bringing the pair to justice, after which he assessed a fine of $200 each. Monroe is one of those individuals who eke out a poor existence by picking up rags and scraps along the river bank and selling them. He had lived with his wife and six children in a house-boat at the foot of Bremen avenue. He will not sleep there again, however, for his wife declares that if he ever comes near her home again she will shoot a pistol full of bullets into him.

Monday morning Monroe and his step-daughter, a frail young creature, went to the Second District Police Court to appear as witnesses in a minor case. After the trial Monroe stopped at a saloon near the court, where he met Elton, who is a miller and lives at 706 South Fourth street. The pair drank freely and then Monroe, Elton and the little girl began to walk towards the former's house-boat. While they were passing through a stretch of high weeds near the foot of North Market street, Elton, who was so drunk he coundn't walk steady, picked the little girl up and caressed her. Monroe laughed, and Elton, encouraged by the drunken stepfather's conduct, then offered the child some money if she would submit to his fiendish desire. Little Georgia began to cry.

"Your father says it's all right," urged the drunken brute. "Don't you, Monroe?"

"Yes, certainly it is, if you give her some money," replied Monroe.

This made Georgia cry still louder, and the men thinking that nobody was within hearing, after arranging that Monroe was to get some money, proceded to forcibly accomplish Elton's wish.

Monroe grasped his weak little step-daughter by her shoulders and Elton seized her by the arms. She began to scream. Monroe laughed and Elton swore. "Yell just as loud as you want to, sissie," sneered Elton, "nobody is near you besides us, and we won't kill you. Your father wouldn't allow that.

The powerless little one fought and screamed with all her might.

Just at this point something unexpected happened. August Bierman, a big muscular fellow, as brave as a lion and good and honest as he is brave, was tramping past that lonely spot on his way home. Beirman heard the little girl cry out in her distress. Picking up a stout stick he hurried forward. A single glance showed him that he had arrived none too soon. With a rapid spring toward the scoundrels, he lifted his stick and brought it down with all his strength on Elton's head. Elton went down like a log and the child leaped to her feet and behind her brave rescuer.

Monroe scarcely realized what was going on, and in his drunken way made a lunge at the man with the stick. Again Bierman brought down his stick, and with a howl of pain Monroe sprang into the tall, tangled weeds and was lost sight of. Elton, stunned by the blow, soon recovered and seizing a stick he made for Bierman, but a second blow with the club made him submissive and then Bierman lifted the child on his shoulder and, with a stout grasp on his trusty club, marched Elton through the weeds to the Third District Police Station. An officer was sent after Monroe. He was found crouching in the weeds, and both were soon locked in a cell.

The story was told in the Police Court, and immediately the testimony was heard Judge Stephenson fined them $200 each, though it is not clear why they were not committed for examination by the Grand Jury. Mrs. Monroe was in court and told how her worthless husband had once before assaulted another of her children. She declared that she would kill him if she ever set eyes on him again, and some of the men in the court, said they hoped that Mrs. Monroe would find the opportunity to make her threat good.

THE LADY AND THE BURGLAR

She Warmed His Head and Hands With a Shillelah.

In the Four Courts holdover is a young man who, according to the police, enjoys the distinction of being one of the most expert porch climbers the St. Louis police force has encountered for some time.

He was arrested at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at Fifteenth street and Franklin avenue by Special Officers Fox and Meehan of the Mounted District on a description furnished by Mrs. Canfield and her daughter, Mrs. Clara Harrison. He gives the name of Peter Wilberts.

On the night of May 11 Mrs. Canfield made the acquaintance of the porch climber. Her residence is at 4153 Castleman avenue. At 8:30 o'clock in the evening she was sitting at a back window overlooking the side yard, just above the kitchen porch. Mrs. Harrison was downstairs. The latter observed a man climb the back yard fence and approach the cellar door. He failed to get in, and started toward the kitchen door. Mrs. Harrison was about to open the door, thinking the fellow a tramp after a meal, but thought better of it. Then he shinnied up the pillars of the porch and clambered on to the roof of it. Mrs. Canfield saw him, and noticing a walking stick in the corner of the room, prepared to receive him. He placed his hands on the window sill preparatory to leaping through when Mrs. Canfield brought the stick down with a resounding thwack upon the fellow's fingers. He yelled with pain, but immediately resorted to force.

Mrs. Canfield is muscular, and before the intruder could get through the window she brought the stick down again upon his head with all her force. Mrs. Canfield had seen the housebreaker by moonlight only and could not positively identify Wilberts as the man. He will be sent to the police court for trespass.

WHO FELT THE RAIN?

Prophet Frankenfield Says That His Predicted Storm Came Last Night.

Dr. Frankenfield says that a nice little rain storm visited St. Louis Monday night. It remained only a fraction of a second, however, and the weather czar was one of the few who knew of it. Postmaster Carlisle, who is always bucking against the weather predicter's tips, and has bought more than one cigar for the czar as a result, questions last night's downpour. The rain storm was predicted Monday morning, and Dr. Frankenfield claimed rather shyly that he had added additional glory and another 10-cent cigar to his personal effects. He was busy hunting up witnesses to the rain storm when the Post-Dispatch reporter rang his official bell and requested him to lower the ladder leading to his sanctum.

"Yes, sir, that was a delightful rain," said he. The temperature fell about fourteen degrees at 11 o'clock, just before the rain came. It was too bad it did not stay with us. I have had considerable hard luck with rain storms lately. They come when I predict them right enough, but that dignified high barometer in the Southeastern part of the State don't allow them to remain long."

At this moment Dr. Frankenfield's Chicago instrument began ticking at a high rate.

"The chilly winds have ceased here," said the Windy City operator. "The mercury is jumping to the top of the glass; the outlook is for one of the warmest days of the season here. Is there any rain or cooler weather moving out this way from your district?" Dr. Frankenfield answered that there was not.

The weather is warming up generally in the East. At New York at 8 a. m. the mercury reached 64, at Cleveland it was 72, New Orleans 78, at Cincinnati 78, at Chicago 78, at Washington, D. C., 60, at Indianapolis 78, at Cheyenne, Wash., 48, and at Denver, Colo., 50. Miles City, Mont., at 44, was the coldest spot on the map. Galveston, Tex., at 82, was the warmest. At the same time here it was 78. Dr. Frankenfield bulletined the local readings as follows:

5 a. m.	73	10 a.m.	84
6 a. m.	74	11 a. m.	86
7 a. m.	76	12 m.	87
8 a. m.	82	1 p. m.	88
9 a. m.	832	p. m.	88

Weather forecast for St. Louis and vicinity—Showers Tuesday afternoon or evening; fair Wednesday; little change in temperature.

For Illinois—Fair and will continue warm to-night and Wednesday.

For Missouri—Fair to-night; Wednesday fair and warmer.

The weather conditions have remained comparatively unchanged, warm and dry east of the Mississippi River, and showers west with moderate temperatures.

Light showers appear to have fallen over all Missouri except the Southeast quarter.

Barometric conditions are very unsettled and showery weather is probable in this vicinity, with, however, but little change in temperature.

Sunday School Convention.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

THE RICHEST GIRL IN ST. LOUIS.

Miss Thompson Will Be Married To-Morrow to Dr. A. Luyties.

VALUABLE WEDDING GIFTS.

A Trousseau of Simple Elegance—The Ceremony to Be a Home Affair.

Miss Emma Thompson, actually and prospectively the richest young woman in St. Louis, will be quietly maried to-morrow to Dr. August Luytjes.

The bride-elect is the only daughter of Mr. Wm. Thompson, president of the National Bank of Commerce, whose wealth is variously estimated at from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000.

Miss Thompson has led an exceedingly quiet life, rarely appearing at any of the principal social functions of the city, and hence is not extensively known outside of her own set.

She is a perfect blonde, of tall and rather commanding figure, and devoted entirely to home interests.

The groom is the son of Dr. Luyties of home medicine fame, and is himself a man of considerable wealth.

There was an announcement that the wedding would take place in church and be somewhat elaborate, but if this were ever a fact the arangements have been changed, for the ceremony will take place in the parlors of the Thompson mansion on West Pine boulevard in presence of the family and only a few of the closest friends.

The bride's wedding gown is entirely of white duchesse silk, trimmed with the finest duchesse lace. Without the slightest ostentation or display the trousseau is said to be magnificent in its elegance.

The original design of the bride's father was to invite the young couple to occupy his seaside cottage over a few weeks, but the cottage could not be finished in time for immediate occupancy and so now there will be the usual journey to places of interest in the East.

The presents to a bride and groom of such prominence are more than usually costly and beautiful, but none of them will be displayed. In fact, the aversion of the family to any extended notice of the wedding rendered it difficult to obtain the few facts which the public always takes an interest in reading.

One of the presents, however, was that of a richly-inlaid clock from Mr. Thompson to the bride.

Perhaps the most unique and interesting gift was a screen decorated in gold and recently brought to St. Louis from the Holy Land. This gift came from Mrs. Van Blarcom, whose husband is the cashier of the Bank of Commerce.

The bride has received from the groom, among other pretty gifts, a solid gold clock.

The wedding to-morrow afternoon will be followed by a reception, at which only a few intimate family friends will be present. The house is being beautifully decorated to-day with flowers and potted plants, and on the wedding day it will be sweet with the perfume of costly exotics.

Mr. Thompson, the bride's father, stands high in financial and social circles. He has amassed his great fortune from a very humble beginning, but he is peculiarly averse to any display of his wealth, and in this his handsome daughter has always shown the same disposition.

This is why the wedding of the richest girl in St. Louis will be attended by none of the furbelows which usually accompany weddings in high life.

There will be only one bridemaid at to-morrow's ceremony—a young lady friend of the bride from Louisiana.

NO MASSACRE.

The Missionaries Are Safe, But Property All Destroyed.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The following cablegram of to-day's date from Rev. J. R. Hykes at Shanghai has been received at the office of the Methodist Missionary Society in this city:

"Property at Cheng Tu destroyed; missionaries are safe."

"These advices," said Dr. Baldwin, the recording secretary of the society, "are official, and while confirming reports of property loss, should set at rest the rumors of the massacre of missionaries.. There was no massacre."

LONDON, June 11.—According to a special dispatch from Shanghai the loss of property as a result of the recent rioting at Cheng Tu, Kiatung and Yo Ching amounts to several million dollars. The Chinese officials, it is added, headed by the viceroy of the province of Sechuen, openly encouraged the mobs to all sorts of outrages, and the petitions of foreigners for protection were refused.

STATE DRUGGISTS.

Opening of Their Four Days' Session at Excelsior Springs.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., June 11.—According to announcement, the Missouri State Pharmaceutical Association met here to-day in Music Hall. The programme arranged for the four days' session is of special interest to the druggists of the State and was taken up at once after the brief preliminaries of the opening. The Wabash brought the St. Louis druggists here in a special through car. This promises to be a representative meeting of druggists from every section of the State.

ATTY.-GEN. HARMON

Takes the Oath of Office and Begins His Duties.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Hon. Judson Harmon was sworn in as Attorney-General this morning at the State Department. He arrived from Cincinnati early this morning. His commission as Attorney-General was made out and sent to the State Department before 10 o'clock. Secretary of State Olney called at the Arlington shortly before 10 o'clock and escorted Judge Harmon to the White House, where he remained half an hour with the President. Secretary Olney then accompanied him to the State Department, where he was formally presented his commission. The oath of office was administered by Justice Harlan of the Supreme Court.

MERIWETHER APPOINTED.

Made Labor Commissioner for the Current Term of Two Years.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 11.—Gov. Stone to-day announced the following appointments: Les Meriwether of St. Louis, to be Commissioner of Labor Statistics for the term of two years from the first Wednesday in February, 1895, vice Henry Blackmore, term expired. Dr. A. E. Donalen of St. Joseph, member of the Fish Commission, vice H. M. Garbich, resigned. Thomas F. Ryan, to succeed himself as Police Commissioner of St. Joseph for a term of three years from April 23, 1895. R. E. Culver of St. Joseph, to be Special Judge of the Criminal Court of Buchanan County, vice Silas Woodson, who is sick and unable to perform the duties of his office.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Having made a reputation and fortune as a corporation lawyer, Judge Harmon is regarded as an authority on trusts and is credited with views on this vital subject that may thus be summarized:

"The law regulating as well as authorizing trusts is well established. Many trusts have been declared legal, and the mere combination of capital is not necessarily a breach of the law. Each trust represents distinctive and special features and must be specifically considered that its standing and relations may be established according to law."

Judge Harmon has all along been outspoken in his indorsement of President Cleveland's stand for honest money. He unhesitatingly condemns the present tariff law, seeing in it a distasteful compromise. He favored the Wilson bill as it originated in the House of Representatives. He approves of the Supreme Court's decision in the income tax case and declares the income tax was "a rider that it was well to unhorse."

MURDERER AT THE AGE OF 4.

Little Gilbert Bowsher Kills Bernice Collins, Aged 2 Years.

REFUSED TO NOTICE HIM.

No Law in the State of Indiana for Dealing With so Youthful an Offender.

LA PORTE Ind., June 11.—Indiana has a youthful murderer in Gilbert Bowsher, 4 years old, who killed Bernice Collins, a toddling infant of 2 years at Monticello. Bowsher, who was in company with two other boys, passed Bernice Collins on the street. The latter spoke to Bowsher's companions, but refused to notice him. This angered young Bowsher, and lying in wait for the Collins child, he attacked it with stones, and before her piteous cries for help brought relief she was dead. The authorities are puzzled as to what steps are to be taken in dealing with the boy; the annals of the State failing to record a parallel case. Both families are prominent.

TO RETURN VOLUNTARILY.

Defaulting Treasurer Taylor Will Soon Arrive in South Dakota.

PIERRE, S. D., June 11.—It is considered certain W. W. Taylor, the defaulting State Treasurer, will be in Pierre within a week. He will come voluntarily with friends. The Benedict part of the case in the United States Court will probably be postponed until after Taylor arrives. He did not go to Sioux Falls, as had been arranged.

Three More Negroes Lynched.

LIVE OAK, Fla., June 11.—Miss Jeanette Allen, aged 18, the belle of Lafayette County, was awakened Friday morning by Bett Collins, a negro employe of her father, at her bedside. He was found later and hanged and shot to pieces, while two negroes who tried to conceal him were shot to death and placed on the railroad track, where passing trains mangled their remains. Fourteen negroes, including these three, have been put to death in a few months in Lafayette County for the same crime.

The Husband Did the Shooting.

OMAHA, Neb., June 11.—James Ish and wife were arrested yesterday for the murder of W. H. Chappell, a machine agent, several days ago. Ish has confessed that Chappell was intimate with Mrs. Ish, and that he caught them in a compromising position and shot the agent. Mrs. Ish at first claimed she shot Chappell who, she alleged, attempted to assault her in her room.

CRIME BRIEFS.

COLUMBIA, Mo., June 11.—The famous Gillespie-McNutt murder case is set for trial at this term of court. McNutt's sentence at the original trial to ten years in the penitentiary has been set aside.

CONTINUED DROUTH.

Prevailing Condition in the Grain Growing Sections of Illinois.

CHICAGO, June 11.—The Illinois weekly weather crop bulletin issued to-day says: The past week has been in general a continuation of the drought conditions, light showers fell in northwest and southern counties the first of last week, but these were insufficient even in the localities most favored. Temperatures were high and sunshine practically continuous. Rain is much needed for crops and to replenish wells, springs and streams. Corn has suffered less from the lack of moisture probably than any other crop, the fields are clean and cultivation general. Wheat harvest will begin in southern counties this week and in central counties the coming week. Along the Ohio valley and where rains fell in southern and central counties the wheat is slightly improved, but the yield will be very light at best and many fields in the central section and west center of southern section, will scarcely pay for the harvest. Rye is also poor and much of it is being cut for hay. Oats are heading very short and will be light in yield. Clover harvest is done in southern and well along in central counties. The yield is light, but conditions favorable for cutting. Meadows and pastures are much in need of rain, also potatoes and gardens. Fruit is holding up well; cherries are ripening, with good yield.

Abuse of Orchards.

WASHINGTON, June 11. Common abuse of orchard tracts is pointed out in a statement to be issued by the Agricultural Department. This abuse is the custom which prevails in counting the orchard as a field of the farm, and calling upon it for its crop of corn, oats, wheat, grass and hay in rotations with the other fields. According to the official warning nothing could be devised as more likely to permanently injure a growing or fruitening orchard than such a policy. When the trees have reached a fruitening age no other crop should be grown in the orchard, though while it is young and non-productive of fruit it may be wise to grow other crops than trees, though there must be a double fertilising for the development of the trees, and the other for the incidental crop. The cultivation and fertilization should be as regular and constant as if a crop were annually removed. This plan, it is pointed out, would revolutionize orchard culture in many sections, and make many seemingly useless orchards profitable.

PUTTING A CHECK ON FILIBUSTERING.

The U.S. Steamer Raleigh Ordered to the Florida Coast.

CAPT. MILLER INSTRUCTED.

Only Vessels Fitted Out as Fighting Machines Against Spain Will Be Overhauled.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 11.—The decision to send the United States steamer Raleigh to the Florida coast for the purpose of co-operating with revenue cutters to prevent filibustering expeditions destined for Cuba from our shores is one of the first acts of Mr. Olney in his new post of Secretary of State. Secretary Herbert has deemed such a course advisable for some days past and has conferred with the President on the subject. Secretary Olney had a further conference yesterday, and, as a result, the formal orders to the Raleigh were issued. Written instructions, carefully setting forth the line of policy which the administration desires to pursue in regard to the interference with filibusters will be sent to Capt. Miller, commanding the Raleigh, and it is probable that he will be called to Washington for a conference with Acting Secretary McAdoo before his vessel leaves New York.

These instructions to Capt. Miller are not yet available, but it is known he will be directed to use the utmost care in preventing any vessel from leaving our coast destined for Cuba with the object of rendering aid to the revolutionists.

The mere shipment of arms, however, is not regarded by the authorities as a violation of the neutrality laws, and before any vessel is overhauled by the Raleigh the officers must be thoroughly convinced the suspected craft is fitted out as a fighting machine to operate against Spain. It is the desire of the authorities that proper diligence shall be displayed, not only by the Raleigh, but by revenue cutters to prevent illegal expeditions from leaving our shores, and Treasury officials are seriously considering the advisability of further augmenting the force of revenue cutters in Southern waters.

Boynton, the Dynamiter.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Cuban dispatches have reported that a newspaper man named Boynton has been killed by the Spaniards while trying to sell a dynamite machine to the insurgents for $20,000. It is suggested that the man is George Boynton, who talked about blowing up Mello's flagship, the Aquidaban, during the insurrection in Brazil. In all the wars of the present generation he has had a hand, and during the civil war he commanded the notorious blockade runner, Virginius. It is asserted that he sank the famous Chilian warship Encalada, and was kept by a mere chance from demolishing by the same agency the famous Chilian cruiser Capitan Prat.

Cubans would say but little about the expedition which is reported to have landed on the island. All of them declared that it was the largest yet sent from the United States, but they would not say definitely from where it came or where it was formed. They appeared extremely jubilant, of course, and assured all comers that Cuba would soon be free.

The rendezvous of the expedition now under way is the Bahama Islands. There new recruits will be mobilized.

A Philadelphia expedition is also to sail early this week and join the Florida expedition at the meeting place in the Bahamas.

It is claimed that the expedition carries enough ammunition to supply the insurgents for a month or six weeks; also enough Winchester rifles of the latest pattern to equip the new levies of insurgents on the island. These guns were purchased in Connecticut by the resident Cuban agent at Fernandina.

A private dispatch from Cuba says the insurgents are making rapid progress in provinces hitherto quiet.

STANDARD OIL MONOPOLY.

Through Its Pressure the Last Refinery in Cuba Is Closed.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

HAVANA, June 11.—The Santiago de Cuba correspondent of La Lucha, a Havana daily, gives new proof of the despotism of the Standard oil refiners in Cuba. According to the corespondent, the last refinery on the island has just been closed through the pressure of the American monopoly. As a result, Santiago de Cuba, a city of 50,000 inhabitants, is left at the mercy of the Standard Oil Co. At present they are in danger of darkness and distress. The correspondent says that "the Board of Governors of the gas company of that city have requested the civil governor to grant them permission to import 200 barrels of petroleum for immediate use in their works."

TALE OF A KITE.

How McCarthy's Dog Came to Bite a Chunk Out of Willie Wruckoldt.

Thirteen-year-old William Wruckoldt of 1939 Malden lane had a fine big kite up to Monday. He has it no more. The string broke while he was flying it Monday and the kite fell into the yard of Joseph McCarthy of 1937 North Nineteenth street. Willie went over the fence after it and McCarthy's dog took a chunk out of his leg. The kite and the dog are still in McCarthy's yard.

DANCED WITH GLEE.

A Child's Delight at Burning His Little Brother to Death.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

MIDDLEBURG, Fla., June 11.—Mrs. Ruth Brookie, residing two miles in the country, while busy milking cows, left her baby and two or three young children in charge of a boy of 9 years old. One of the younger boys took a match and deliberately applied it to his little brother's clothes, burning the child from the knees upward in a frightful manner. While the child was burning the boy danced around the baby in glee, little realising his terrible act.

Forest Fires Subside.

BRADFORD, Fla., June 11.—The forest fires in the vicinity of Kane are under control and no further trouble is anticipated.

A GREAT DAY FOR THIRSTS AND THE QUENCHING THEREOF.

WISHED HIM BON VOYAGE.

Farewell Banquet to Mr. Dougal Crawford, the Merchant.

FRIENDS' CHEERY WORDS.

Response by the Departing Guest of Honor in Appreciation of the Compliment Paid Him.

Mr. D. Crawford, the dry goods merchant, was given a farwell banquet by his friends at the Mercantile Club Monday night. He leaves with his family Wednesday for a four-months' tour of Europe.

The blue room, where the feast was spread, was adorned with a wealth of palms and potted plants. A miniature model of the steamship Lucania, on which Mr. Crawford and his family will sail, rested on a sea of ferns and honeysuckles.

Covers were laid for thirty-two and the following sat at the bounteous board: D. Crawford, Joseph Franklin, Rev. Wm. Porteous, D. D., Wm. Anderson, J. W. Dick, John T. Crawford, George Constand, J. C. Dodds, Dr. E. Preetorious, Peter Nicholson, John B. McKay, J. H. Cluny, W. T. Blaine, Charles Gregory, D. M. Houser, Rev. M. Burnham, D. D., Charles Duncan, Wm. McCully, James M. Crawford, George Augustine, Alexander Penny, Wm. F. Mills, Ross McDonald, Wm. I. McArthur, Col. C. H. Jones, Wm. Porteous, Wm. Steigers.

Regrets were received and read from Messrs. John Gentles, William Walker, C. W. Knapp, David Eisman, M. J. Lowenstein, George M. Wright, H. M. Young and Milton McRae.

Mr. Joseph Franklin of the William Barr Dry Goods Co. was toast master, and in proposing the first toast, "Our Honored Guest," he paid a tribute to Mr. Crawford in a cheery, happy way. He spoke of Mr. Crawford's business qualities as displayed in the silk department of Barr's, and later on a larger scale in his own emporium.

After the applause at the close of Mr. Franklin's speech, Mr. Crawford responded. He said:

Mr. Chairman, Fellow-countrymen and Fellow-citizens—I cannot adequately express to you how deeply I feel the compliment you have tendered me this evening, nor how embarrassed I am at the undeserved praises which have fallen from the lips of your worthy chairman. The latter I can only account for to the gentleman's extreme goodness of heart, more than to the cooler deliberation of his head. Were I half as good as he has painted me, I would not be fit to dwell on this mundane sphere, but would have been taken hence long e're this, as we all know the good die young. It is such a common occurrence nowadays for individuals and families to cross the ocean's foam that little if any notice is usually taken of it, and they are allowed to come and go at their own sweet will. Therefore, for a plain, ordinary citizen like myself to be banqueted and honored in this public manner by such a distinguished gathering of St. Louis' most substantial citizens almost overwhelms me. This assemblage represents the press and commerce, two of the most powerful agencies for the civilization of the world, and represents also more than perhaps any other agencies could—one of the finest, grandest, richest and most substantial cities of this great American continent, "St. Louis the Great," "St. Louis the Good." A city with the finest streets, the finest railroad depot, and the finest electric and cable car systems in the world; so complete is this street car system that it almost puzzles one to find himself a home where a street car does not pass his door. No city in the world has boulevards, gardens or drives that can equal ours. Few cities can equal, and none surpass, the sewerage and water-supply systems of St. Louis, and no one in the whole world can approach her in her good works or in her charitable and hospitable deeds.

"I say, therefore, for an humble individual like myself to be feted by such a company, the honored merchants and distinguished representatives of the press of such a city, is having greatness thrust upon him. As an adopted citizen of St. Louis, where I have spent the greater portion of my life, I have no idea of severing myself from her, but hope to live, die and be buried here. I know her people well, as I know no one else; I love their good, generous, hospitable ways, and I love the very stones in her streets. I purpose leaving here Wednesday to visit the land of my birth. I do not go for my health, nor for pleasure, nor for business, but for pure, unadulterated sentiment. I go to see the very spot at which I first saw the light, to look upon the mools where the dust of my ancestors lies, to roam around the shores of the sea-girt isle where I spent my boyhood's days; to stand on the very rocks from which I jumped on many a sunny, happy summer day, and at this late day to try the jump again and swim and lave in the same clear, salt water; to take a look into the school rooms of long ago, which were there before I was born, and which will be there long after I am gone; to fill my soul with the same old sweet song of the wimplin burn; to lie and listen to the sughin' o' the win' amang the trees, and the lashing of the waves on the shore; I go to take one more stroll across the Gowan Lea, and feast my eyes once again on the prettiest sight of all, the 'wee, modest, crimson-tipped flower'; to take a peep into the shop in the second city of the Empire, where I graduated to the same business I am now engaged in; I go to clasp the hands and look into the kindly, honest and true faces of the three boys, now old men, all who are left in the old land of the hundreds who went to school with me. Besides these, only three more of that youthful, happy, merry band of long ago are in the land of the living, they having gone in their youthful days to faraway New Zealand. Many of my former schoolmates lie in the auld Hich Kirkyard of their island home, while the graves of the great majority are scattered far and wide by 'mount and stream and sea.'

Some lie where pearls lie deep,
So that none o'er their low bed may weep.

Others lie in the cedar shades of our Western forests. Others again sleep on the baresides of the Crimea, whose slopes on a memorable day in September, 1854, were stained with the young, warm blood of these Scottish heroes, belonging to the "thin red line," who were commanded by their doughty chief, Sir Colin Campbell, to fire not a shot until within a yard of the foe, no matter what might be the provocation, which order was religiously kept until reaching the summit, then bursting "a torrent of tartan and steel" upon the bewildered Muscovites, who wavered, then broke, then flew like the very sheep on the hills where these freemen were born.

"The grave of another of my old schoolfellows I hunted up some years ago, and had the melancholy satisfaction of standing over it in the small churchyard at Chamouni; its occupant had been for many years a respected and beloved minister of the Church of Scotland, who, as had been his custom for several vacations, had climbed Mount Blanc. A storm overtook the party, and every one of the eleven perished.

"I have no desire to monopolize the time of this happy gathering. I hope to meet you all again in the enjoyment of good health, and having the bounties and blessings of heaven showered plentifully upon you. Happy to meet; sorry to part; happy to meet again. Till then adieu."

The toast to "The Press," responded to by Col. C. H. Jones. Aside from the personal compliments and congratulations natural to the occasion, Col. Jones took for his text some remarks on advertising made by Mr. Arthur Balfour at a recent banquet in London. Col. Jones suggested to the business men present that in writing their advertisements they could enjoy the satisfaction of knowing that they were making history. He said that newspapers are the raw material of history, from which the historian of the future will dig his most precious material. He argued that if the historian was wise he would devote more care to the study of the advertising columns than to the news columns or the editorial comments, because in them he would find reflected the wants, needs, tastes, fashions, inventions—the whole daily life of the people.

Passing on to other lines of thought, Col. Jones dwelt upon the dependence upon one another of the newspapers and the business men. He admitted that the newspapers could not exist without the advertisements of the business men, but he reminded his hearers that, on the other hand, the vast department stores over which many of them presided were the creation of the advertising columns of the newspapers. It is the opportunity of reaching numerous and widely distributed readers with common wants, through advertising in a daily newspaper, that has rendered possible the great bazaars. Without the newspapers and the facilities they afford for reaching simultaneously the vast population of a great city, the great retail stores would be impossible, and the people would have to depend as a whole upon the small local store, which in turn depends upon the limited patronage that can be drawn from its own neighborhood.

In behalf of the press of St. Louis, Col. Jones wished Mr. Crawford a prosperous voyage, a happy vacation and a safe return, and concluded amid applause.

Other toasts responded to were as follows: "Scotland," response by George C. Cousland; "The Kyles of Bute and the Boys Brought Up There," Rev. Wm. Porteus, D. D.; "The United States," Rev. M. Burnham, D. D.; "The State of Missouri," Dr. Preetorius; "The Dry Goods Business," W. I. McArthur; "St. Louis Caledonians," Peter Nicholson; "Bon Voyage," response by the company.

SALE IN WESTMINSTER.

Heavy Deal in Residence Property by Mr. Wm. Somerville.

A big sale of Westminster place property was closed Tuesday, which shows prices in that residence thoroughfare to be steadily advancing. Through the agency of the Nicholl-Ritter Realty and Financial Co. was sold a lot 100 feet front on the south side of the street, between Lake and King's highway.

Wm. Somerville, president of the Missouri Glass Co., made the purchase, paying $36,000 for the property. E. E. Rude sold the property, he having acquired title to it recently from Franciska Kreiger. Mr. Somerville has made other purchases in the vicinity recently through Nicholls-Ritter. This firm handles Westminister place property, and has obtained figures showing the property to be holding its own. In a sale made recently they secured the highest amount ever paid for property in the place.

Nicholls-Ritter report having made several sales in Chouteau place Monday and Tuesday, which will be reported later.

Agents' Reports.

Anderson-Wade are receiving numerous inquiries regarding their big auction. They will sell building lots in Gibson Heights at 1:30 p. m. next Saturday. This property is located east of Forest Park on the Chouteau avenue and Kink's highway electric roads and is highly improved. The terms are easy.

Fifty choice building lots in Tyler place will be sold at auction Thursday afternoon by the J. T. Donovan Real Estate Co. The property is situated just north of Tower Grove Park and west of Compton Heights, convenient to Grand avenue, Lindell and Market street car lines. Special terms have been arranged for the purchasers.

The property comprised in the Jesse Arnot estate was not sold Monday, the agents refusing to entertain the bids offered.

Glasgow Mansion Sold.

The sale of the old Glasgow mansion in Glasgow place was consummated Monday evening, the price obtained being $38,000. Wm. Booth conducted the sale. The property has a frontage of 398 feet 4¾ inches on the south side of Glasgow place, between Garrison and Webster avenues. In making the sale the price offered was made on the ground value alone, the mansion not being considered, as it will be torn down to make room for a costly hospital to be erected by Messrs. Smith P. Galt, Sam M. Kennard and Richard M. Scruggs, trustees of the estate of the late Robert M. Barnes. Mr. Barnes died in April, 1892, leaving an estate valued at one million dollars. He made provision for the erection of a hospital to cost $100,000. Now that the site has finally been selected, work will be pushed on the building of the new structure. The Glasgow mansion was erected over a quarter of a century ago by the late William Glasgow and has been held by Mary G. Branch and a half dozen other heirs.

Valle Reyburn's Big Purchase.

An important deal of downtown realty has been closed by Levi & Epstein and Blackwelder & Holbrook realty agents. The Emory Hotel building, occupying the southwest corner of Eleventh and Locust streets, has been purchased by Valle Reyburn from W. E. Gillham and wife for $38,000. The building is a four-story structure, having a frontage of forty-three feet on Eleventh street. Mr. Reyburn has in mind several plans for improvement of the site, one of them to remodel the building into a first-class bachelor apartment house. Owing to the few sales made in this neighborhood for some time, more than usual interest was attached by the sale. The price obtained is considered rather low.

Addition to the Cupples Block.

The Samuel Cupples Realty Co. will still further enlarge its properties in the vicinity of Eighth and Spruce streets. Plans have been drawn for a two-story warehouse, which will be built on the east side of Eighth street, between Spruce and Clark avenue, at a cost of $10,000. When completed the structure will be leased to an East St. Louis manufacturing concern. The new building will occupy a lot 40x102 feet. J. H. Bright secured the contract for the erection of the building.

WEDDED AT KIRKWOOD.

Nuptials of Miss Margaret Matthews and Mr. John Garnett Atwater.

A large and fashionable audience was present this morning at St. Peter's Church in Kirkwood to witness the nuptials of Miss Margaret Elizabeth Matthews and Mr. John Garnett Atwater, which were celebrated at nuptial mass at 8 o'clock this morning, Rev. Fr. Stempker officiating.

The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. William Matthews, who have taken the part of parents to her since the death of her own when she was a very small child, and she is very popular in St. Louis society, Mr. Atwater also being well known. Both young people are representatives of wealthy and influential St. Louis families.

The church was prettily decked with palms and cut flowers and the beautiful strains of Lohengrin's wedding march was the signal for the entrance of the wedding party, led by the ushers, Messrs. Dave Gilkerson of Chicago, Will Crutsinger, Joseph R. Matthews, a cousin of the bride, and John Justin Matthews, her brother. The only bridemaid, Miss Eliza Veach, entered the church alone, preceded by the only groomsman, Mr. Geo. McEnnis, the bride coming last, leaning upon the arm of her eldest brother, Mr. Harrison Stuart Matthews, who gave her away.

The bride looked lovely in her gown of fine white organdy, over white satin, the skirt made dancing length, the bodice cut high and elaborately trimmed with ruffles of lace after the popular snowball effect, a knot of white satin ribbon fastened on the left shoulder, the immense puffed sleeves finished with bows of ribbon, a girdle of the same about the slender waist, with graduated streamers reaching to the hem of her skirt. A long tulle veil enveloped the whole, falling from the high coiffure, fastened with a handsome ornament of silver.

Miss Veach wore a pretty bridemaid's gown of white and green organdy, elaborately trimmed with lace and green ribbons, the bodice cut high, with long sleeves trimmed with ruffles of lace. She wore a white veil to her waist, and carried a bouquet of white carnations fringed with maiden-hair fern, and tied with white and green ribbon.

This was a white and green wedding, all the decorations, as well as the colors of the gowns, carrying out the idea.

After the ceremony at the church the bridal party drove to the country residence of Mr. William Matthews at Windsor place, where a wedding breakfast was served, and a reception of the friends and large family connection of the bride and groom took place, a number of St. Louis guests being present, both at the church and the residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Atwater leave this evening for St. Paul and the North, and upon their return will keep house at Kirkwood.

WILL GO TO THE STATE.

Estate of a Young Girl who Has Left No Heirs.

The State of Missouri may inherit over $6,000 from Miss Nellie Urmson, aged 17, who died Monday at the residence of George Douglass, her guardian, 1407 North Grand avenue. Senator Fred W. Mott is curator of her estate and neither he nor her guardian know of any heirs she may have and she died without making a will.

Her parents lived in Harrisonville, Ill., and her father, John Lloyd Squire Urmson, managed Thorn's Grove. When his wife died he came to St. Louis and March 16, 1883, he took a fatal dose of poison. He bequeathed his Masonic insurance policy to his daughter, who thenceforth made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Douglass. She returned from Lindenwood College, St. Charles, a month ago in broken health. She died Monday.

City Chemist Not at Fault.

The attempt to shift the blame for the police bungle of the opium joint cases on City Chemist Teichmann is not warranted. The samples turned over to Dr. Teichmann were all properly labeled and ready to be produced in evidence. The trouble lay in the fact that they had passed through several hands before reaching him and the police were not prepared to give evidence on this point.

Charles Lowe, a carriage-maker, aged 59, was found dead in bed at his home, 506 South Garrison avenue, at 8 p. m. Monday and he is supposed to have committed suicide. Lowe was not seen Monday, and Baker had a policeman force an entrance to the house. Lowe was found dead and on the mantel was an empty bottle supposed to have contained chloroform.

CITY FARMS PROSPERING.

Thirty Detroit Plan Vegetable Gardens in Good Condition.

Messrs. Addington and Foreshaw of the Detroit Plan Committee made a round of the lots under cultivation Tuesday. The dry weather is the only drawback to the gardener now. If rain does not come soon some of the lot holders will use city water to irrigate the vegetables. All of the thirty lots planted under the direction of the committee are flourishing, and give promise of a good crop.

The temporary office of the committee in the Fagin Building will be closed, and the members of the committee will look after details of the work through the summer. The ground is so dry and hot now that no further planting can be done. The lots under cultivation are sufficient to determine the adaptability of the plan in St. Louis.

The rumor that the committee has disbanded and thrown up the work on account of a threatened suit growing out of the vaudeville benefit is pronounced ridiculous by Secretary Deering and other members of the committee. The Detroit Plan Committee hold a contract with William Clarke Jewell, who arranged the benefit, under which they were guaranteed against any liability for the expenses, and the committee has not given the matter serious consideration. They are not liable, and if they were such a thing would not prevent the success of their work, as they have already accomplished all and even more than they started out to do.

LEWIS F. LINDSAY DEAD.

Widely Known as a Leader of Sunday School Choruses.

Lewis F. Lindsay.

Mr. Lewis F. Lindsay, the tailor, noted as a leader of Sunday-School choruses, died Monday evening at his home, 4282 Cook avenue. He was sick with typhoid fever for over six weeks and ten days ago he looked forward to an early recovery, but a fatal relapse came. He was 58 years of age and leaves a family.

Mr. Lindsay's reputation as a chorus leader was national. Twelve years ago he identified himself with Sunday-School work in St. Louis and became Chairman of the Music Committee of the Superintendents' Union. He filled the same position in the Sunday-School Union after it absorbed the Superintendents' Union. Mr. Lindsay trained the choruses for the May festivals which the Sunday-School Union used to have each year at the Fair Grounds and he led the choruses of 1,600 and 1,700 voices on Sunday-School day at the Exposition each fall.

Mr. Lindsay conducted the concerts during the Seventh International and Second World's Sunday-School Convention in this city in 1893, and he had charge of the music at the State Sunday-School conventions. For several years he was the chorus leader at Centenary Southern Methodist Church, of which he was a member. He compiled a well-known book of hymns.

THE LAKE DEDICATION.

Preparations for an Enjoyable Day for the Children of Carondelet.

The schools of Carondelet, the Des Peres, Blow and Carondelet, uniting on a picnic day have also fixed upon the dedication day of the new Carondelet Lake that they may participate in the exercises. In addition to the dedication of the new body of water an attractive day has been planned for the children.

The dedicatory services, which will be held at 4 p. m., embrace a song, "Red, White and Blue," by public school children; historical and financial sketch of the Park lake, Hon. F. W. Mott; song, "Star Spangled Banner," presentation of lake, Hon. W. M. Kinsey, Chairman Carondelet Improvement Association; response, Col. C. H. Jones of the Post-Dispatch; acceptace of lake on part of the city, Hon. C. P. Walbridge, Mayor; song, "America."

The school children's programme begins early in the morning with the march from their school buildings, the Des Peres marching at 9 a. m., led by the band, and the Blow and Carondelet at 9:15, the three schools uniting at Broadway and Robert and marching thence to the park. The day's games begin at 3 p. m. with a ball game. All participants must have been in attendance at one of the three schools within the last quarter. The bicycle and foot races will take place on the grounds around the lake. The ball game will be between two picked nines from the Blow and Carondelet schools and take place on grounds to be selected; prize of $4.50 to winning side; prize of ice cream to losers.

The foot races are five in number: No. 1, for pupils under 10 years of age; race of 100 yards; first prize, $1; second prize, 50 cents. No. 2, for boys over 10 years of age; race 200 yards; first prize, $1; second prize, 50 cents. No. 3, for girls over 10 years of age; race of 100 yards; first prize, $1; second prize, 50 cents. No. 4, for teachers from any of the schools and members of the Citizens' Committee; race of 100 yards; first prize, $1; second prize, 50 cents; third prize, ice cream. No. 5, boys' shoddy race; first prize, $1; second prize, 50 cents. In No. 5 each contestant will put his stockings in his pocket and place his shoes in a barrel fifty yards from the start. When ready, the run will be made to the barrel; each boy will select his own shoes from the pile emptied from the barrel, put them on with his stockings, fasten them up and then race to the goal. No boy with the wrong shoes on or not having his shoes properly fastened can win the race.

Bicycle races—No. 1, for boys, four times around the lake; first prize, $2; second, $1; third, 50 cents. No. 2, for girls, twice around the lake; first prize, $2; second, $1; third, 50 cents.

Foot-balls will be provided for use; they will be in charge of principals. A number of balloons will be sent up after 4 o'clock from the edge of the lake.

IS FROM ST. LOUIS COUNTY.

Ben Myers Identified as Bernard Reinagel by Sheriff Garrett.

Ben Myers, who, with Jack Frost and Ebb Bryan, held up a Chicago & Alton express train at Carlinville, Ill., May 1, and killed Engineer Frank Holmes was identified Monday by Sheriff Charles C. Garrett of St. Louis County as Bernard Reinagel. He was born and reared in Manchester, eighteen miles west of St. Louis. The prisoner, when confronted by Sheriff Garrett, admitted his identity. His father, Michael Reinagel, a stonemason, settled in Manchester fifty years ago and is a worthy citizen. Michael Reinagel, brother of Bernard, is a bricklayer and contractor in St. Louis. Bernard learned his father's trade, but took to drink and became a loafer. He refused to discuss the crime of which he is accused.

KNOCKED DOWN AND KICKED.

Henry Edmonds' Rough Treatment at the Hands of Strangers.

Shortly before 9 o'clock Tuesday morning Henry Edmonds, a salesman at the Fair clothing store, met Officer Slattery on Olive street and told him that he had been assaulted a few minutes before at Eleventh and Olive streets by two unknown men with female companions. They had knocked him down and kicked him in the face. A swollen head and a cut lip bore out the man's statement as to the assault.

Officer Slattery took him to the Dispensary, where his wounds were dressed, and he was sent to his home, 3002 Thomas street. Edmonds could give no description of his assailants nor supply a reason for the attack upon him.

EXPLAINED BY APPROXIMATION.

United Elevator Co. Gives Out Figures on Its Shortage.

BASED ONLY ON ESTIMATES.

The Amount of Grain Handled and the Shortage for Two Years Not Definitely Known.

Stockholders of the St. Louis United Elevator Co. will receive a circular to-night or to-morrow giving a statement in regard to the present shortage in wheat in the company's elevators and also an explanation of why it was necessary to borrow $275,000.

The directors of the United Elevator Co. met Monday afternoon at the company's offices in the Rialto Building and decided that at the regular annual meeting of the stockholders, sixty days hence, they would submit a proposition to issue $300,000 worth of second mortgage bonds, bearing 5 per cent interest. This number of new bonds is required to cover the loan of $275,000 obtained a few days ago from the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. It is expected that these bonds will be placed on the market about three months hence, and that they will bring par, or, at least, only a small margin below par.

H. S. Potter, R. P. Tansey and J. B. M. Kehlor, the committee appointed to prepare a statement for the stockholders, reported at yesterday's meeting of the directors. Their report was adopted by the directors, and the circulars to be sent to the stockholders are being printed to-day. In this circular the shortage in wheat is placed at 158,000 bushels, although the exact amount will not be known until all the wheat in the elevators has been weighed. The circular sets forth the amount of grain handled since July 20, 1889, by the United elevators, as follows:

	Bushels.
July 20, 1889, to July 1, 1890	32,332,447
July 1, 1890, to July 1, 1891	20,529,244
July 1, 1891, to July 1, 1892	30,443,097
July 1, 1892, to July 1, 1893	22,814,507
July 1, 1893, to July 1, 1894 about	13,000,000
July 1, 1894, to date, about	9,500,000
Total	128,618,295

The figures for the last two years are approximated, but those for the others are exact. These figures show that there has been an enormous decrease in grain receipts for the last two years, the total receipts of the last two years amounting to no more than the receipts of 1893 alone.

The net profits of the company have been as follows:

July 20, 1889, to July 1, 1890	$ 73,877 65
July 1, 1890, to July 1, 1891	28,504 70
July 1, 1891, to July 1, 1892	100,719 70
July 1, 1892, to July 1, 1893	280,677 44
July 1, 1893 to July 1, 1894, about	130,000 00
July 1, 1894, to Dec. 1, 1894, about	55,000 00
Total profits	$668,779 49

The company has little or no profit on the 6,000,000 bushels of wheat it carried from last December to May.

These profits for six years have been absorbed as follows:

Dividends	$469,000
New elevator	140,000
Retired bonds	60,000
Total	$669,000

FRANCHISES DEFECTIVE.

Work Delayed on the Venice and Madison Lines.

VENICE, Ill., June 11.—A contract for 9,850 cubic yards of filling on the Edwardsville road has been let to Frank Kraft at 20 cents per yard by the Village Board.

The ordinance granting an electric railway franchise to Messrs. C. H. A new bond is to be filed in the sum of $5,000.

Work on the electric railway is stopped at Madison on account of defects in the franchise held by Messrs. Niedringhaus and Sheldon. The necessary petition from adjoining property-owners on Madison avenue has not been secured.

The Chas. Pope Cornet Band are arranging for a Fourth of July celebration on an extensive scale. Fireworks, prize games and an oration by R. J. Brown will be the features.

Meyer, one year in the Workhouse on pleas of guilty.

OHIO BELLE'S LAST RACE.

Dismal End of a Once Promising Iroquois Filley.

BROKE DOWN YESTERDAY.

Barney Schreiber Paid $4,500 for Her, But She Proved Worthless and Will Be Retired to the Stud.

Barney Schreiber's handsome 4-year-old brown mare, Ohio Belle, by Iroquois, in all probability ran her last race at the Fair Grounds yesterday. She started with a field of fourteen cheap platers in the second event and broke down badly, pulling up very lame. Schreiber viewed with sorrow the game, but unsuccessful effort of the handsome mare and after the race he announced that he would never race her again, having determined to retire her to his farm in St. Louis County, where she will be bred to Boundless. Ohio Belle has been a costly disappointment to Schreiber. Chris Smith owned her as a 2-year-old and she was one of the best on the Western circuit. Lew Marion took charge of the Kendall Stable in the fall of 1893, and, owing to Smith's depressed financial condition, it was found necessary to sell some of the horses in order to tide the stable over the winter. Smith wanted to sell Prince Carl, who was only an ordinary 2-year-old, but Marion, remembering that few, if any, Iroquois fillies have been of much account after their 2-year-old form, advised him to sell Ohio Belle.

"I had taken a fancy to Carl," said Lew, speaking of the matter the other day, "and I advised Smith to hold on to the colt and sell the mare, knowing that he could get a big price for her, while the colt would bring little or nothing."

Schreiber bought Ohio Belle for $4,500 and he got Dollie McCone at the same time. It has always been Barney's ambition to own a great performer and he thought Ohio Belle would prove a great 3-year-old and realize his expectations. She developed into one of the handsomest mares ever seen in the West and her owner entered her in all the big stakes here and at Chicago, including the American Derby. When they commenced to work a year ago, however, she soon gave her owner and trainer cause for anxiety. Her front legs were "dickey" and it was painfully evident that she would never stand training. By handling her carefully Schreiber managed to scratch a race out with her at the Fair Grounds, but she has been useless ever since.

A REST ON KING'S HIGHWAY.

SCHREIBER ON SCHILLER.

The Turfman Says the Poet Was a Great German Like Him.

Barney Schreiber, the successful St. Louis Teutonic turfman, honored and showed his respect for his distinguished fellow-countryman, Schiller, the poet, by naming after him one of his most promising 2-year-olds. The day Schiller ran Sir Play such a good race Barney thought his colt would give the brother to Tournament a stiff argument.

"I wouldn't name a 'dog' after such a German as Schiller," said Barney, "and this colt will bring as much honor to the name on the turf as Schiller did in his particular profession."

"Who in the dickens was Schiller?" inquired a bystander.

"Well, all I know is that he was a great German like me," replied the master of Woodlands. "However, my betting commissioner, Mac Burns, is a deep student and ought to be able to give an exhaustive biography of the gentleman."

Now Mac comes from the Emerald Isle, and a look of profound disgust spread over his countenance when Barney turned to him for some information about Schiller. "I never heard of him," said Mac. "He may have been a great German, as Barney says he was, but I don't know as he ever did anything to justify Schreiber's naming one of his race horses after him."

VICTORY FOR ROBY.

Michael McInerny Made Receiver and Racing May Be Continued.

CHICAGO, June 11.—By a decision of court Receiver Moore is deposed as receiver of the Roby Racing Association and the conduct of the business of the association placed in the hands of Michael McInerny. It is ordered that racing may be continued. This is a substantial victory for those of the Roby Association who are opposed to the efforts of Geo. Hankins to prevent racing at the Indiana track.

Track Talk.

Not a single horse won at the Fair Grounds yesterday. The winners were all fillies and mares.

Service, who won the Inaugural two years ago, is carded to start for the first time today.

J. E. Cushing will ship his string to Detroit in a day or so. His horses are not doing well.

Three No. fours on the programme won yesterday and Garner landed the last three winners.

ZIMMERMAN AND JOHNSON.

Asbury Park Cyclists Trying to Arrange the Match Between Them.

If a match race between Zimmerman and Johnson is not made it will certainly not be the fault of the Asbury Park wheelmen, who have taken the initiative in the matter and in whose hands Zimmerman has left the making of all arrangements. Representatives of the club obtained Zimmerman's consent to the issuing of the challenge on Tuesday and saw Chairman Gideon of the Racing Board in Philadelphia on Wednesday. The challenge was telegraphed to Johnson at Albany on the evening of that day. Eck replied for Johnson, saying that the stake named in the challenge, $6,000, is unreasonable, and further, that Johnson would not ride at Asbury Park. It is known to be Johnson's, or Eck's, desire to race for a vastly smaller stake and the winner to take the gate receipts. To this Zimmerman is very properly opposed. The Asbury Park people argue that it is Zimmerman and not Johnson who has the right to make conditions, and that all the conditions he desires are reasonable and proper.

It is difficult to understand what objection there can be to running the proposed race at Asbury Park. Nowhere else, more particularly during the National Meet, could a bigger attendance be obtained, and this should be an object. Moreover, the track upon which it is proposed to run the race has lately been extensively improved and is now absolutely safe for the highest speed. Zimmerman is on the eve of a racing trip to Australia, and it is not reasonable to ask him, just before leaving, to minimize his importance in his own country by racing for a relatively insignificant stake. Zimmerman's money is now on deposit in the First National Bank of Asbury Park.

BEAT A LOCOMOTIVE.

Bicyclist Arnot Outspeeds a Train From Riverside to Palmyra.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

RIVERTON, N. J., June 11.—As the 6:35 o'clock Pennsylvania train left Riverside Station this morning George Arnot started down the road on his bicycle. The highways run parallel with and close to the tracks all the way and Arnot shouted: "I'll beat you to Palmyra."

The engineer crowded on steam and passed the wheelman, who was pedalling for all he was worth; but as a stop had to be made at Cambridge and another at Taylors, Arnot got a comfortable lead and shouted back in derision. When the train pulled up at Riverton Station for a third stop, the train and the bicycle were neck and neck. Arnot now had a straight, hard and level stretch of road to Palmyra Station, and he scorched over it at break-neck speed. The engineer made every effort, and the passengers on the train rushed to the windows and eagerly watched the outcome. The engine slowly gained upon the wheelman, whose legs were moving like the arms of an electric dynamo, but when Palmyra Station was reached Arnot was still several yards ahead, and, as he took his hat and uttered a victorious yell, the passengers gave him a hearty cheer.

MANHATTAN BEACH RACES.

Bald Will Endeavor to Win Back His Mile Record.

Some great racing may be expected at Manhattan Beach on June 15, at the races of the New York State Division meet. The track is believed to be the fastest in the world, and Bald will endeavor to win back the mile competition record, although his trip to California may interfere with his racing form for a few weeks to come.

Bicycle Races Postponed.

TAYLOR, Tex., June 10.—The State bicycle races and poultry exhibition which was to have taken place here on the 12th of this month have been postponed until July 5th on account of the heavy rains which have fallen for the past week.

BETTS RESIGNED.

A Good Riddance to the League of a Bad Umpire.

Umpire Betts has tendered his resignation to President Young, and it has been accepted, Betts has not made public his reasons, and it is given out that the action was taken because he needed a rest, but this hardly seems possible, since he has been scarcely two months at his work.

Behind the unlooked-for move is thought to be Betts' sensitiveness to criticism, and if he is sensitive he certainly would feel the comments that have been written and spoken on his work. In nearly every city in which he has officiated he has been handled without gloves and his work condemned. Most of the adverse comments were true, for Betts was as little fitted for an umpire as for a jockey.

WILL PLAY ON THE STAGE.

Rumor That "Pop" Anson Will Grace the Footlights Next Season.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 11.—A special from New York says:

Theatrical circles were surprised, to say the least, at the announcement that Adrain C. Anson would next season go on the stage. Anson, more familiarly known as "Pop Anson," has for years been identified with the Chicago base-ball club. The truth of the announcement that this noted ball player will turn to the stage was affirmed by Charley Hoyt, the manager, who has engaged him. The author-manager is now writing a melodrama. The main features will be an exciting ball game, and he has selected Mr. Anson as the ball-playing hero. Mr. Anson could not be found last night at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where he is temporarily quartered, but many of his companion players were seen, who were both surprised and amused that their chief had suddenly developed into an embryo "actor man."

LEAGUE BOARD MEETING.

Cases of Everett and Cross Were Both Decided Against Detroit.

According to reports from New York yesterday the National Board of the National League and American Association did not go into the controversy between Chris Von der Ahe and the Wagners over the old Cincinnati Association Club, but settled the disputes between the Detroit and Syracuse over Cross and Detroit and Chicago over Everett, by deciding against Detroit in both instances.

It appears from the records on file with "Uncle Nick" that Cross came into prominence first as a member of the Detroit Club. He was subsequently suspended and turned up at Syracuse, N. Y., where his brilliant work attracted the attention of the Pittsburg management. Last season he was drafted from Syracuse, but before the $500 for his release was paid, Detroit put in a claim to the release money, on the ground that he was never released outright by that club. At the close of last season both Pittsburg and Detroit included the name of "Monte" Cross among the players each held in reserve. It is probable that some of the confusion in this case arose from the fact that Cross sometimes signs his name "M. Cross," again "Monte" Cross and frequently "Montgomery Cross."

In the case of Everett, it appears that he was drafted from Detroit by Chicago, and under ordinary circumstances the latter organization should pay $500 for his release. It is claimed by Anson that Everett's services were obtained from Detroit in accordance with a personal understanding between the authorized parties of the two organizations that an exchange should be made. Detroit was to take Glenalvin or Dungan in exchange for any player Anson might select from the Detroit Club. He chose Everett.

PROPOSED BRIDGE ACROSS THE HUDSON RIVER.

Side Elevation of the Proposed Hudson River Bridge.
(From the Engineer's Plans.)

TO SPAN THE HUDSON.

New York Will Have a New $23,000,000 Suspension Bridge.

Plans have been adopted for a new bridge to span the Hudson River at New York City. It will be a suspension bridge, with a central span 3,100 feet between piers. It will have an elevation of 100 feet above water, with a capacity of six standard railroad tracks on one level. The main span will be sustained only by cables. The towers will be steel skeletons, commencing fifty feet above the water, where the masonry piers end. The estimated cost is $23,000,000, and the time alloted for its construction is four years.

COMING IN ON EVERY TRAIN.

Fully 1,000 Delegates Will Be at the Memphis Meeting.

MEN OF NATIONAL REPUTE.

Counties and Cities in Missouri and Arkansas Holding Silver Conventions.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 11.—The silver men will have beautiful weather for their convention which opens to-morrow at the Auditorium, where the sound money convention was held last month. The sky is clear and, though the temperature is high up in the eighties, a pleasant breeze is blowing. Indications point to a very large attendance, including a number of men prominent in national politics. Delegates are arriving by every train and will continue to come in up to noon to-morrow. There is a noticeably large proportion of men from the country and smaller towns among those already seen on the streets. It is now thought there will be fully 1,000 delegates in attendance when the gavel falls on the chairman's desk to-morrow. The personnel of the convention will embrace Democrats, Populists and a few Republicans.

Delegations are expected from twenty-five States, but scarcely any from States east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio. There are seven United States Senators, Jones and Berry of Arkansas; Bate and Harris of Tennessee; George and Walthall of Mississippi and Turpie of Indiana. Senators Stewart of Nevada, Shoup of Idaho and Butler of North Carolina are expected to-night.

The programme of the proceedings has not yet been fully decided upon in all its details. The convention will be called to order at 11 o'clock to-morrow by W. H. Brown, president of the Bimetallic League of Memphis. Judge T. H. Estes of the Circuit Court will offer u pa prayer and an address of welcome will be delivered by ex-Congressman Casey Young of Memphis. It has not yet been determined whether or not there will be a temporary organization. In case it is decided to start off with a permanent organization, Senator Harris will nominate for permanent chairman either Senator Turpie or Senator Jones of Arkansas, probably the former. If Turpie is made chairman of the convention Jones will be chairman of the Committee on Resolutions and vice versa.

Committees on Credentials and Resolutions will be appointed and the convention will adjourn until after noon.

Resolutions will be probably presented at the second day's session.

Among the speakers will be ex-Congressman Sibley of Pennsylvania, Alex Delmar of California, ex-Gov. Prince of New Mexico; Senators Jones, Turpie, Stewart and Shoup and probably ex-Congressman Bryan of Nebraska. Senator Harris will not speak, but will devote his attention to the business of the convention.

DODGING THE ISSUE.

Republican Leaders Afraid to Face the Silver Question.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 11.—The experienced Republican leaders are disposed to do everything possible to avoid any silver fight at the meeting of the Republican League at Cleveland. Senators Dubois and extreme silverites intend to force an expression, but the old-timers will do all in their power to dissuade them from such a course. Senator Quay wants the party to go slow on the question and to avoid a split such as is likely to, in his opinion, overtake the Democrats. Some of the prominent leaders will try to have the league stick to legitimate business and avoid any attempt at outlining a policy for the party.

Senator Proctor of Vermont thinks the Republicans should avoid getting into a fight this year that can be put off until next. Vermonters, he said, are not discussing silver. They are for sound money; the sounder the better, and are in favor of using silver at it has always been used, but do not favor coinage at the 16 to 1 ratio.

PIKE COUNTY JOINS IN.

Free Coinage Democrats Want a State Convention Called.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

BOWLING GREEN, Mo., June 11.—The delegate convention of Pike County Democrats met yesterday afternoon and adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Democrasy of Pike County, in delegate convention assembled, hereby expresses itself in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 of gold by the United States, and that without waiting the action of any international convention, which we believe to be a device to mislead the people and to indefinitely postpone the question of the remonetization of the white metal.

Resolved, That without impugning the motives of the State Central Committee, we deprecate its action in refusing to call a State convention, as being against the known will of an overwhelming majority of Democrats of Missouri and to the detriment and disadvantage of the party in the State, and that we hereby request the said committee to reconsider its action and to convene the people in deliberative assembly as soon as a majority of the counties shall, in convention or through their executive committees, express themselves as favoring such an assemblage, for the purpose of receiving expression as to their opinions upon the question of currency.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Hon. C. C. Maffitt, Chairman of the State Central Committee, and also to the St. Louis Republic, Post-Dispatch and Chronicle.

The convention selected the following delegates and alternates to the State silver convention: Delegates—D. A. Ball, M. S. Goodman, E. W. Major, Bowles Unsell, E. V. Martin, Dr. W. H. Pollard, William J. Alvis. Alternates—Ed A. Glen, Sam Sparrow, Geo. W. Emerson, William Pritchett, D. S. Copenhaver, W. B. Shaw, E. P. Matthews.

MARIES DEMOCRATS.

Free Coinage Resolution Adopted at the Vienna Convention.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

VIENNA, Mo., June 11.—The Democrats of Maries County held a rousing mass meeting on Saturday afternoon, the 8th inst., at which the following set of resolutions were enthusiastically and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, By the Democrats of Maries County, in mass convention assembled, that we are in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver, at the ratio of 16 to 1, and demand that both gold and silver be made legal tender for the payment of all debts, public and private, and that our Government take the initiatory step, independent of and without the consent of the much-talked of international agreement, for we believe that those who talk international agreement mean delay only and are unfriendly to the white metal and are enemies to the Democratic party; and be it further

Resolved, That we favor no man for President of the United States, or for United States Senator, or for Congress, who is not in favor of the restoration of silver to the place that it occupied prior to the demonetization act of the Republican party in 1873; that we condemn the course of the President as advocating a false financial policy, one calculated to promote the interest of the moneyed few at the cost of the toiling masses, and be it further

Resolved, That we heartily approve the plan of J. W. Farris in calling a State convention and that we now elect four delegates who shall be given power to represent us in said State convention, when called.

Resolved, That we denounce the action of the State Central Committee in refusing to call a State convention, and we especially denounce the action of Committeeman J. W. Zevely of the Eighth Congressional District for voting against the holding of said State convention, after being fully advised that a large majority of his constituents were strongly in favor of said convention; and be it further

Resolved, That he be forwarded a copy of this resolution with the request that he resign as a member of said State Committee, and that some suitable person be appointed to fill said vacancy who will properly represent the views of the Democrats of said district.

Resolved, That we indorse the State Administration, but condemn in unqualified terms the action of the Thirty-eighth General Assembly and the special session thereof in failing to pass a fellow-servant and anti-lobby bill, and we further condemn the action of our State Senator, J. B. Harrison, and denounce him as a traitor to true Democracy and a pliant tool of corporate monopoly.

Resolved, That we declare ourselves in favor of the honest, brave and faithful work of Hon. R. P. Bland and his position on the financial question, and recognize him as the leading champion of silver and our choice for President of the United States in 1896.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Post-Dispatch, it being the leading exponent of Democracy in the State of Missouri.

Wade Hampton a Goldite.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 11.—Gen. Wade Hampton, United States Railroad Commissioner, arrived in Portland last night on a tour of inspection of the Pacific railroads. This is his first considerable stop at any place since he delivered the address at the unveiling of the monument to the Confederate dead at Chicago.

"How do you stand on the financial question?" he was asked during a conversation this afternoon.

"I am in favor of sound money. The five propositions set forth by Secretary Carlisle are unanswerable. I hope that every newspaper in the country opposed to free silver will continue to publish these propositions. Nothing could be more convincing.

"Secretary Carlisle's preliminary statement of a proposition that he is about to discuss is a speech in itself," exclaimed Gen. Hampton. "He is argumentative, clear-headed and most convincing. He has wonderful ability and is all right on the financial question."

Gen. Hampton says he does not believe the Democratic party will declare in favor of free silver. It would not surprise him, he says, if Cleveland was nominated for a third term.

Balls County Comes Out.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

PERRY, Mo., June 11.—Delegates from each of the townships of Ralls County met at New London yesterday and passed resolutions calling upon the State Central Committee to call a State convention not later than Aug. 1, to give expression of the Democracy of the State on the restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of silver. Resolutions were passed favoring the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. The following delegates were chosen to represent the county in any convention which may be called to pass on the financial question: G. W. Humphrey, William Ely, C. W. Cole and I. T. Dawson.

KILLED BY FERD B. KENNETT.

Former St. Louis Police Chie Shoots His Erstwhile Partner.

BITTER PERSONAL QUARREL.

Was Well Known in St. Louis, Had High Connections and Made a Record Socially and Officially.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 11.—Ferb B. Kennett, ex-Chief of Police of St. Louis, Mo., shot and instantly killed A. B. Lawson, a detective and former partner of Kennett. The shooting took place in Lawson's office, on New High street about 4 o'clock. There were no witnesses to the affair. All that is known of how it occurred comes from Kennett's lips.

There has been bad feeling between the two men for some time over business matters. Kennett claimed that he had been unable to get a settlement from Lawson and was determined to do so. Yesterday afternoon he went to Lawson's office, he says, to make a final effort to come to terms. He entered the office of his former partner and seated himself across the table at which Lawson was seated.

A heated argument immediately began. Lawson made a pass as though to draw a revolver and Kennett, thinking he was about to shoot, drew his own weapon and fired three times.

Lawson fell back and expired almost immediately. One bullet entered an inch above the navel and the other two just below the left breast.

As soon as the shooting was over Kennett turned to leave the office. As he passed out the door Deputy Sheriff Kearney met him and took him into custody. Kennett made no resistance. He gave up his gun and walked quietly to jail.

Albert Lawson, Jr., son of the murdered man, was in the next room at the time of the shooting. He heard the sound of the shots in his father's office and ran to his assistance. Kennett was already gone, but Lawson lay dead in his blood. The boy realized immediately what had happened.

"For God's sake, give me a gun. He's shot the old man," he yelled to a friend as he ran wildly out of the room. His friend had no weapon and the maddened boy started up the street to find one when he was apprehended by the Sheriff and quieted.

Kennett has been in California for some years engaged in the detective business. He was considered a fine sleuth and was noted for his quiet, gentlemanly ways. He and Lawson had been associated in the capture of "Kid" Thompson, one of the Roscoe train robbers, for whom there was a reward of $300. Kennett claimed that Lawson got all of this and he wanted his share. The bad feeling had been going on some time and Kennett thought Lawson had been talking about him.

Kennett's wife died about a week ago and he was almost mad with grief. The expense of the funeral was heavy and he needed the reward money to tide him over. He had heard that Lawson accused him of being drunk at the funeral, and this, together with his grief, his friends believe, drove him to madness.

Lawson was 40 years old and leaves a widow and four children. He was one of the best known characters in the State, having been a detective of high standing all of his mature life and having been connected with many prominent cases.

No weapon was found on Lawson's body.

When Kennett was informed of Lawson's death he expressed no regret. He said: "Well, gentlemen, I have no excuse to offer for my act. I have always tried to be a gentleman and treat everybody right. I have found that if there was a low down scoundrel, it was this man Lawson. I used to think he was an honest, upright fellow. My wife died about a week ago, and I was told to-day that Lawson accused me of being drunk and not attending her funeral. This is a lie. I was told that Lawson said that if I hadn't been drunk things would have gone off smoothly. Everybody that attended the funeral knows that I was there and not intoxicated. Well, Lawson had been owing me quite a sum of money for some time, for services rendered him while I was in his employ. I went to his office and met him. I demanded my money and he said he did not owe me a cent. I again repeated my demand for money. At this he called me a ——. I told him I would not take that from anybody, and that he had better go easy. Suddenly he sprang from his chair at me. I pulled my gun and didn't stop till I pulled the trigger three times. I wanted to do a good job. He fell to the floor and a little later Deputy Sheriff Dennis Kearney took me to jail. As I said before, gentlemen, I am not a bit sorry for what I have done."

Whitney Is Their Hope.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The Morning Journal, now under control of John H. McLean of the Cincinnati Enquirer, says this morning:

The announcement coming from his own lips that William Collins Whitney had declared himself out of the running for the Presidency of the United States, was received here with much surprise and no little disappointment.

The feeling is widespread that Mr. Whitney would be better able, perhaps, than any other to unite the Democracy of this State and bring to his support a united party.

Mr. Whitney's outspoken stand taken by him in an interview published on his arrival from Europe was accepted as doctrine which every good Democrat could follow. It is not now believed that Mr. Whitney is out of the race, and those who are his supporters will not desist in their efforts to secure him the necessary number of votes.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE CALLED DYSPEPSIA?

Like a thief at night, it steals upon us unawares. The patients have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint, all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. Eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After awhile a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish colored expectoration. The patient feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high colored, depositing a sediment after standing.

There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a Liver Complaint, some for Dyspepsia, others for Kidney Disease, etc., etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success.

Now, the Shaker Digestive Cordial causes the food eaten to be digested. This will cause an appetite for more food, and this being digested will result in an increase of strength, an increase of flesh and an increase of nerve power.

The tired, weary feeling will give way to vigor and courage. The pale, thin and emaciated will recover their color and plumpness, because red blood and fat are the result of properly digested food.

A ten-cent trial bottle will produce a result. Its good effect will be realized at once. You will not have to take a dozen bottles to find out if it is doing you any good. Try it, and then give praise to the Shakers of Mount Lebanon, New York, for the relief that you obtain.

A RIGHTEOUS VETO.

By his veto of the corporation consolidation bill Gov. Altgeld has again given the people of Illinois cause for thankfulness that they have a man in the gubernatorial chair who has the will and the courage to protect them against a lobby-ridden Legislature.

Gov. Altgeld's action is fully justified by the provisions of the bill and the concise but forcible reasons he gives for his veto. They discredit in advance the inevitable charge that he was actuated by prejudice against corporations and a low desire to curry favor with the mass of the people.

The bill, like its kindred measures, the Chicago gas and street railroad consolidation bills, which met the same fate, embodied an indecent example of legislative subservience to corporation influence. It was an outrageous betrayal of the people who elected the legislators to make laws for the protection of the rights and interests of the whole community. The bill enabled any number of corporations organized for similar purposes to consolidate and enjoy all the powers, privileges and franchises held by each company before consolidation. It conferred upon the corporations of the State an unlimited power of monopoly without a single clause for the protection or compensation of the people.

Gov. Altgeld formulated a platform upon which all honest men should stand when he wrote in the closing sentence of his message, "to deliberately legalize monopoly and make absolutely no provision for protecting the people from extortion and oppression would be a crime."

If there is fear of corporate power or prejudice against corporations in the public mind it is not due to public officials who denounce and prevent such crimes, but to corporation managers who are led by greed to seek to perpetrate them through the corruption of Legislatures.

SCHOOL RAIDS AND JOBS.

The proposition to increase the salaries of the executive and clerical force to the amount of $3,880 will come before the School Board to-night and there should be enough members present with the best interests of the schools at heart to defeat this raid on the school funds.

The proposed increases are unjustifiable at this time. There is no need for them. Employes of the Board are receiving good pay, from the Superintendent down, and the finances of the Board are not in a condition to warrant swelling the salary list.

For years past the Board has been putting up the plea of poverty in excuse for failure to provide sufficient accommodations for the school children and to make proper improvements and repairs. Every year the problem of how to make the funds meet the needs of the schools has been a puzzling one and the schools have suffered because of an alleged lack of funds.

In order to meet the demand for additional school room school property to the value of nearly $300,000 was recently sold. An additional merchants' tax was levied to supply funds for current expenses.

The new school-houses and additions will require furnishing and fitting; also new teachers and janitors. The Board will be under heavy expense to meet public requirements next fall. Under the circumstances uncalled for generosity to officials is unjust to the people, unwise and unbusinesslike.

Another unjustifiable squandering of the people's money is the awarding of contracts to the highest bidders, a suspicious and dangerous policy against which the Post-Dispatch has often protested. Several awards of this kind will come up to-night.

A majority of the Board should get together to prevent such raids and jobs and insist upon business methods and rigid economy in the public school administration.

THE MONEY QUESTION.

NO. 1—WHY THE QUESTION?

For the first time in their history the people of the United States find themselves absorbed in the discussion of the money question—not greenbacks, nor bank notes, nor any other form of representative money—but real money, primary money, money of redemption—silver and gold.

It is a complex question, having to do with ratios, parity, units, standards, grains, decimals and other features new and strange to the popular mind, and it is not surprising that the popular mind is confused and bewildered by a subject of which bankers, capitalists, money dealers and financiers assume to be the sole custodians and interpreters. But the matter is one of the profoundest popular concern, for it is a matter of dollars—and this involves all contracts, the values of all kinds of property, all debts, credits, obligations and dues, all stocks, bonds, notes and accounts—all inheritances, taxes, damages, fees, commissions, penalties, prices and wages. It is not, therefore, a question for bankers and money dealers alone, since it affects the daily interests of every family and every individual in the land.

And besides, the people have no confidence in the disposition of the moneyed interests to deal fairly with the subject. It was the moneyed interests that unsettled the subject in 1873, when it was at rest, by dropping silver dollars out of the coinage, thus virtually demonetizing a metal that had served as money among all nations from the beginning of trade and among the American people from the beginning of their history. Gold and silver are the money of the constitution—not made money by the constitution, for they were used as money before the constitution—but recognized by that instrument, just as life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness are recognized by it as fundamental human rights.

The coinage act of 1873 took from silver the ancient right of free coinage and thereby took from the people, without their consent and without their knowledge, one-half their future supply of metal money. When the people discovered what had been done, they began to demand the restoration of their ancient and constitutional money, and it is because their demand has been again and again disregarded that they are now repeating it with stern emphasis and bidding all other questions to wait until this one is settled.

RACE-TRACK GAMBLING.

The race track gamblers are gathering their lobby forces for a final assault on the Illinois Legislature. They expect the confusion of the closing days of the Legislature to help put through a measure to legalize race track gambling.

The outcome of the struggle will demonstrate whether the majority of the members of the Legislature are honest or dishonest. The issue is clear between honesty and dishonesty, decency and corruption. Legislators cannot hide behind the confusion of the close of the session or pleas of misapprehension. Any race track bill that goes through the Legislature will be backed by gamblers and passed by boodle. Its sole object will be to enable the blacklegs of the race track to degrade the sport of horse racing by making it an adjunct of tin-horn gambling and to rob the public.

If the gamblers succeed in passing a bill it will be convincing proof that the lobby is as strong in Springfield as it is reputed to be. The men who vote for it will be good men to keep at home hereafter.

ST. LOUIS AND COTTON.

The letter of the committee of the Business Men's League, describing the unequaled advantages of St. Louis as a cotton milling point, is so clear and convincing that its object ought to be easily attained.

The committee shows that there is a saving of $2 per bale in freight over Boston plants and in freight on return manufactured goods from the East to the West.

With coal for manufacturing purposes to be had at 90 cents to $1 a ton, another great advantage is shown.

Labor is obtainable here on favorable terms, and the competition of river transportation brings the rates of freight to consuming districts within reasonable limits.

The 935,000 bales of cotton that come to St. Louis in a single season ought to be manufactured at the great distributing point of the Mississippi Valley. When we can handle cotton as well as it can be done at Southern points and far better than in the East, there is good reason why we should enter largely upon the manufacture of cotton goods. Of all places, St. Louis is adapted to the building up of a great cotton industry.

ADVERTISERS AND HISTORIANS.

When Mr. Arthur Balfour, at a banquet to the Newspaper Society in London recently, stated that in his judgment the news was not of really more importance than the advertisement, a few thoughtless persons in his audience laughed. Mr. Balfour, however, did not exaggerate in making this statement. Without constant examination of the advertising columns, thousands of families would be unable to exercise that watchful economy which alone enables them to "make both ends meet," and instead of being surrounded with comfort would be in a state of chronic need.

But it is the aspect the advertisement will bear to posterity, and especially the historian of the future, which is suggested by a study of the modern newspaper. Can it be possible, as suggested at last night's banquet, that mere advertisements will have any interest for the historian? Any one who would answer in the negative can know nothing of the methods of the true historian. The ordinary school text book called "A History" is not history in the modern sense. Past generations have been contented with so-called "histories" which merely recited the rise and fall of dynasties, the bloody battles, assassinations, crusades, and great changes in the forces that attempted to rule the nations. The modern historian goes deeper. Students of history nowadays want to know all about the life of the common people.

The archeologist, delving in ancient history, is vastly interested in the countless little vitrified bricks covered with inscriptions, found in Persia, Egypt and elsewhere. The great mass of these inscriptions are bills, lists of goods, petty legal documents, and memoranda of all kinds of commercial transactions. The historian does not despise them. He can reconstruct from them the daily life of the common, work-a-day people.

A bill for a week's household supplies, with prices attached, is as useful to the historian as a bulky state document. In the advertisements the future historian will find out accurately what we ate, what we wore, how we amused ourselves, the value of land and how it changed ownership, the rise and fall of prices, the way our houses were heated and lighted, the shape of our cooking utensils—in fact, all the little details that made up our daily life. With the aid of the advertising columns we shall be to him an open book, to be read and studied of all men.

The Post-Dispatch's circulation has increased enormously because it is a better newspaper than publications the subscription price of which is 65 and 80 cents a month. When an intelligent newspaper reader sees that he can get for 45 cents a month something superior to what he has been getting at a much higher figure, he does not deliberate as to what he shall do.

The "hopeless wreck" of the Democratic party, which Prophet Whitney supposes will take place if the party refuses to adopt the ideas of the Republicans and recreant Democrats, is a choice of evils which might commend itself to self-respecting Democrats. Victories in which no principles are involved are scarcely to be preferred to defeat.

Why should there be anything more immoral in bicycle riding than in horseback riding? The Woman's Rescue League of Boston certainly would not take away the side saddle. There is no doubt that many immoral persons have taken to the bicycle, but there is no reason why there should be any association of these with good women.

While Spain is protesting against assistance from the United States for the Cubans, she may not have entirely forgotten that during our last war with Great Britain the British were permitted to fit out expeditions at Pensacola, which was then a Spanish port.

The proceedings of Democratic county conventions and committees in this State make good reading for Democratic State committeemen who want to know the sentiment of Missouri Democrats on free silver and a State convention.

It was no matter of surprise when James G. Blaine said that trusts were private affairs, but when Democratic Cabinet officers talk in that way it is time for Democrats to look around for their bearings.

The goldbug Democrats in Kentucky are themselves splitting. There has been such a row over the selection of a place in Louisville for Carlisle's next speech that his coming has been several times postponed.

The determined efforts of the Administration's machine in Kentucky to give that State to the Republicans make a spectacle for Democrats who voted to give Mr. Cleveland a second term.

If the blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church, there is reason to hope for that part of China which includes the missions of Cheng-Tu, Kia-Ting and Yoa-Chohu.

In vetoing the bill providing for the consolidation of Illinois corporations, Gov. Altgeld has again served the people well. How monopolies do detest a "crank."

The Duke of Wellington, when alive, little dreamed that his London house would one day be occupied by so distinguished a person as Boss Croker.

There are corporation lawyers quite as able as Judson Harmon. So, if anything should happen to Harmon the President may easily choose another.

There is something very suggestive in the fact that Eli Perkins, the professional liar, has taken to writing articles in support of the gold standard.

If the turf gamblers have $100,000 with which to work the Illinois Legislature, the result may be a horse on that body's confiding constituencies.

Are you dreaming sweetly, my little pet,
Of the daytime joys you cannot forget?
Or do fairies lead you to scenes afar
Where the queen and her royal household are?

I am sure there is music as sweet and clear
As your own glad laughter, my baby dear,
For they caught it up from your lips to-day
As the merriest music a heart could play.

And the flowers in bloom in the fields out there
I have often seen in a form more fair,
For the fairies selected with taste all wise
The colors you wear in your cheeks and eyes.

And the sun is shining as softly there
As the gold agleam in your silken hair.
Is it all a vision? I'm sure 'tis true,
And the fairies have gathered their joys from you.

Oh! the sleep is sweet where the dreams are filled
With the simple song you have gaily trilled,
And the starflowers glow with a new delight
When you wander out in the fields of night.

Oh! little one, sleep, when the nights are kind.
In dreamland seek for the joys you find.
May they glow and glitter and each pure star
Reflect you forever, just as you are.

GEORGE E. BOWEN.

PLEAD HIS OWN CASE.

Peralta-Reavis Appears in Court to Small Purpose.

SANTA FE, N. M., June 11.—The great American claimant, James Addison Peralta Reavis, appeared in the Court of Private Land Claims yesterday as his own attorney in his suit for the possession of nearly 3,000,000 acres of land alleged to have been granted to Baron Peralta by a King of Spain early in the eighteenth century.

The claimant could not get any of his alleged lawyers to Santa Fe to fight the case. He claimed to have lawyers galore, but all had more important engagements than to secure a few hundred million dollars' worth of lands for their client. He made a plea for delay on the score of the absence of his attorneys. But first he moved to exclude all the other Peraltas having their claims considered jointly with his. There are several hundred Peraltas, all claiming descent from the dead Spanish favorite, and they all wanted a share. The motion to exclude them was overruled, the Court holding that if the claim was established the rights of various heirs could be settled between them outside of this court. Peralta Reavis objected to the ruling and wanted a continuance till the United States Supreme Court could pass on his objection. He tried on several grounds to obtain a postponement, but the Court was obdurate, and all he got was a postponement for twenty-four hours to enable him to examin depositions taken by the government.

The Court's determination to consent to no more delay is based on a knowledge of what the government's depositions contain. They are said to furnish ample proof that every one of the alleged grants and abstracts of title are forged.

The most startling development in the government's fight against the claim has been the admission of several witnesses that the wife of Reavis was not a Spaniard at all, but the daughter of one John Treadway by an Indian woman, Kate. This damaging testimony was procured through the efforts of the attorney for the United States, Mr. Matt G. Reynolds, who sent a special agent to Sherwood Valley, in Mendocino County, California, where several important witnesses for Reavis lived. This agent, Mr. L. A. Hughes, spent several months in the valley investigating stories relating to the parentage of Mrs. Reavis, and finally secured depositions which expose the whole story of the claim as fabricated by the husband of the so-called Baroness. The government, on the strength of these depositions, considers its case complete and conclusive.

This story of the Peralta Reavis claim has been told before. It was urged by the claimant, James Addison Peralta Reavis, is the only living lineal descendant of the Baron of the Colorados, a favorite in the court of Philip of Spain in the last century at a time when all the property wrested from the Mexican government in 1846 by the United States was a part of his Catholic majesty's domain. On account of brilliant services rendered his sovereign the Baron of the Colorados was in the year 1791, as a mark of that sovereign's affection and esteem, granted a tract of land in what is now Arizona and New Mexico, which, measured in the American way, amounts to 15,000,000 acres. This was the largest grant of land ever made to a single individual in the history of the world. On it and through it flow the Gila and Salt Rivers, so indispensable to the irrigation of the territory, and under it lie all the coal fields yet undeveloped in that section. The Southern Pacific Railway brings it into communication with the rest of the world. It embraces three times as much land as does the famous Maxwell grant. Therefore $100,000,000 is a low estimate of its value.

The Baron at once visited the new world and built a castle, the ruins of which are yet to be seen in Arizona. He spent several years in the country, and was lord of all he surveyed, and more too. Finally he returned to Spain, where he suddenly sickened and died, leaving an only son, who inherited the entire possessions. The new Baron of the Colorados at once set out for the Occident, and resided for years in the ancestral castle erected by his father. Then he returned to Spain, and there he also died, but, unlike his father, he left heirs here in America.

It was this sole remaining representative of this family—according to the claim—brought forward by Peralta Revis in the person of his wife. Her identity as such was established to the perfect satisfaction of Col. James O. Broadhead of St. Louis, attorney for Peralta Reavis, and others; and the government's new evidence has come as a complete surprise.

THE FAIR MILLIONS.

A New Claimant to the Vast Estate Now Appears.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 11.—A new claimant to the Fair estate has appeared. He claims that his name is James Fair and hails from New South Wales. He is not clear as to his exact relationship to Fair, but claims to be a nephew. He has retained Lawyer Aisley of Sydney, who has written here for information.

Gilt edge bonds and stocks to the sum of $3,000,000 were deposited in the Union Trust Co. to-day to settle claims against the estate. When Fair engaged in the big wheat corner deal, he ran out of ready money. He applied to the Luning estate for a loan, putting up the collateral which was redeemed to-day. The remainder of the amount has been held by the Lick estate in lieu of the mortgage on the balance remaining unpaid, for the Lick House in which Fair died. The ready cash to redeem the securities was furnished by the sale of the great pile of wheat heaped up at Port Costa.

RIOTOUS STRIKERS.

Non-Union Men Assaulted While Working on Armour's Mansion.

CHICAGO, June 11.—A handful of non-union painters, who have been working on the $1,000,000 residence of P. D. Armour at Thirty-seventh and Michigan avenue, were attacked by a party of union men and a desperate conflict waged for a few minutes. Four non-union men were injured as follows:

Adam Beyer, cut on head and right eye half gouged out.

Two other men were thrown down stairs and severely injured. No arrests were made as the police were not notified.

Advisory Counsel Foster's Fee.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 11.—A special from Washington, D. C., says: Mrs. John W. Foster, wife of the ex-Secretary of State, who has been the counsel for China in the negotiations with Japan, has cabled here that his work is completed, that China has negotiated her loan and that he expects to be in Washington by July 10. It is known that the negotiations of China from the outset to the end have been dictated and conducted by Mr. Foster. It has been ascertained, also, that by reason of his extended acquaintance in Russia, which he formed when United States Minister there, he was enabled to secure for China the indorsement by the Russian Government of the Chinese loan.

With this indorsement it was possible for China to negotiate the loan in Paris, which was done. In the history of the world's diplomacy it has probably never before occurred that a foreigner has been given to such an extent the confidence of another Government. It is ascertained that the Chinese Government acted in strict accordance with the advice of Mr. Foster on every subject. The fee of Mr. Foster is said to be $100,000.

THE NEW WOMAN.

SHE HAS NOT YET REACHED THIS STAGE OF HER PROGRESS.

WOMEN AND THE HOME

Convertible Bicycle Costume.

Here is a convertible homespun costume for female bicycle riders. It is an English patent. The construction of the costume is simplicity itself, and one of the greatest charms about it lies in the fact that it can be used equally well for walking in town or country, cycling, climbing, mountaineering, golf or any other athletic exercise, while it is light in weight, undeniably graceful in appearance and wonderfully moderate in price. It is arranged with a smartly-cut, well-fitting bodice, a full plain skirt, buttoning at the sides, and knickerbockers made in the newest and most approved fashion. In less than a minute, by simply unfastening the buttons at the sides of the skirt and securing the skirt in an equally easy manner to the shoulders, the lower limbs are left perfectly free, and a graceful drapery is all that remains apparently of the skirt, reaching a short distance below the knee, and clearing quite easily the wheel of a bicycle or tricycle.

Silk Alpaca.

Silk alpaca is a fabric much in favor at present. It bears but little resemblance to the material known by the name some years ago. This season alpaca is shown in all new colors and in a variety of patterns. It is pliable material, graceful and serviceable and especially suited for a traveling gown. It sheds the dust and does not wrinkle.

Fried Bread.

Dip slices of stale bread in milk, let it drain, then dip it in beaten egg and fry as you would doughnuts. When a nice brown put it on a warm plate and sprinkle pulverized sugar over it.

The Rose Bag on the Bureau.

One of the most delightful accessories to a bureau drawer is a rose bag, imparting as it does just the faintest perceptible, yet subtly penetrating and lingering rose odor without a suggestion of sachets or perfumery. A rose bag may be made of faint rose colored China silk, filled with rose leaves, and tied loosely in the middle with a broad rose hued satin ribbon.

The Sex Fill Any Position.

Women have during the last three months been employed as letter-carriers at Temeswar, in Hungary, and, the system having succeeded so well, it will be extended to other Hungarian towns.

Cream Puffs.

For one dozen: Take half pint of boiling water and a half cup of butter; stir in this while boiling half pint of flour. Let get cold and add with fork three eggs, one at a time. Drop in a pan and bake about twenty minutes.

Custard for Filling.—Half pint of new milk, light pinch of salt, one tablespoonful of cornstarch, one egg, half cup sugar; flavor with vanilla.

Parents Should Note This.

A bright, studious girl who had always easily stood at the head of her home school, entered the Freshmen Class of a girls' college last autumn. In a recent letter to her family she made this astute remark: "You have no idea how good it is for me to be thrown at last among several hundred young women, and find my own level. It is wholesome, if it is not flattering, to see how many people there are, even in this small world of college, who know quite as much as I do."

Economy in Lamps.

The first object to be attained towards getting a well-lighted lamp is to get a free flow of oil; the wick, therefore, should be held by the fire and thoroughly dried before using; by this means it will quickly absorb the oil and the flow is not impeded. Another way is to soak the wick in vinegar and then dry it thoroughly; this prevents smoking. In some oils there is a sediment which sinks to the bottom of the reservoir and adheres to that part of the wick that lies there. Oil will not flow through a dirty wick, and without a good flow there is little light. Foul wicks should be washed or boiled in soft water and soap, then rinsed and well dried. Another thing to be borne in mind is that the reservoir of the lamp should always be kept filled; if the oil is low the flow is imperfect, and the wick becomes charred. The lamp would then give a poor light and emit a disagreeable smell.

THE DOCTOR'S ADVICE.

Kindly tell me how much Warburg's tincture to give a girl of 16 who is suffering from malaria.

Give her one teaspoonful before each meal.

Will you kindly tell me what to apply to a toe that was frozen last winter? The burning troubles me a great deal.

Try an ointment composed of one-half dram of pure carbolic acid, one-half dram of tannin, thirty drops of tincture of iodine and two ounces of simple cerate. Apply it twice a day.

Please publish in your medical column the quantities I shall ask for to make the tonic of iron, quinine and strychnine.

You cannot prepare it yourself. Ask your druggist for elixir of iron, quinine and strychnine. The dose for an adult is one teaspoonful three times a day.

ITS GOLDEN JUBILEE.

Celebration of the Founding of Notre Dame University.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 11.—The celebration of the golden jubilee of the founding of the University of Notre Dame takes place to-day and the two following days. The exercises will treat of Notre Dame of the past, present and future. The orators who are expected to take part are Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, Bishop Spaulding of Peoria, Hon. Claude Matthews, Governor of Indiana, ex-President Harrison and others. Very Rev. E. B. Kilroy of Stratford, Ont., the oldest living graduate of the university, will be present and deliver an address. Other speakers will be Rev. E. J. McLaughlin of Clinton, Io.; Hon. Wm. P. Breen of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Hon. T. E. Howard, LL. D., Judge of the Supreme Court of Indiana, all graduates of the university. Mass will be celebrated by Archbishop Elder of Cincinnati and Bishop Rauemacher of Fort Wayne, Ind.

The annual commencement will occur in connection with the golden jubilee celebration, and twenty-five archbishops and bishops of the United States and Canada, a number of priests and a number of delegates of the alumni besides hundreds of friends of the institution from all over the world, will honor the occasion with their presence. The largest crowd ever assembled at Notre Dame is expected.

On Nov. 17, 1892, the fiftieth anniversary was quietly celebrated, but no public demonstration was held on account of the failing health of the venerable founder, Very Rev. Edward Sorin. His subsequent death, closely followed by the demise of Rev. Fr. Walsh, the late President of the university, postponed the event another year.

Notre Dame was chartered by the Legislature in 1844, and the first commencement exercises were held in June of the same year. Fr. Sorin was then first president, holding the office until 1865. He continued practically at the head of the institution, however, up to the time of his death, which occurred in November, 1893.

TAXING MINING.

An American President of Mexico Explains the New Law.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Mr. C. L. Tompkinson, an American resident of Mexico, who is interested in mining there, and who is temporarily in this city, in explaining the new regulation concerning the taxation of mines in that country, said that it grew out of the fact that the Mexican Government had recently decided to resume control of the mints. It appears that the mints have for the past several years been leased to private individuals, who, while they have charged a mimage tax, have put it on a somewhat different basis from that proposed by the government. The charge for minting gold and silver has been almost three per cent, while the government has collected in addition a tax of 61-100 of 1 per cent, making in all a tax of over 5 per cent to be paid by Mexican mine owners to have their ores coined into money in Mexico, while those who sent their products to smelters either in Mexico or the United States escaped the payment of the bulk of the tax. The government, upon resuming control of the mints on June 1 next, proposes to levy a uniform tax of 5 per cent on the gold and silver contained in the ore mined in the country, without regard to where it is treated.

"The change," said Mr. Tompkinson, "is the greatest of fairness to all, and while it is probably intended to encourage home industry, no one can really safely find in it legitimate reason for complaint. Those who have been accustomed to send their ores to Mexican mints will find no material difference, and what difference there is is in their interest."

FOR A LOCAL COTTON MILL.

Letter Sent Out by the Business Men's League Advertising St. Louis.

The Committee of the Business Men's League, consisting of A. Mansur, L. L. Prince and Jerome Hill, appointed to secure the location of a cotton mill here, has sent out the following letter, showing the advantages of St. Louis as a cotton milling point, to Eastern manufacturers and capitalists:

DEAR SIR.—You will doubtless have noticed the claims that our city has been been making for this as a great cotton manufacturing and distributing center. The Business Men's League, composed of over 100 of our most prominent and progressive business firms, has appointed a committee, consisting of Messrs. A. Mansur, Chairman, L. L. Prince and myself, looking to the erection of a large plant in St. Louis.

Allow me to state that the advantages of St. Louis are unequaled in any other section of the country, as the following facts will prove:

First. There is a saving of $2 per bale in freight over Boston points.

Second. There is a saving of at least a similar amount in freight on return manufactured goods from Eastern points to the West.

Third. Coal for manufacturing purposes can be obtained in St. Louis at 90c to $1 per ton.

Fourth. St. Louis is now one of the largest and most active distributing points, especially for cotton goods, and for all other merchandize in the United States.

Plentiful labor can be obtained here, as has been proven, on most favorable terms to manufacturers.

Sixth. Rates of freight to consuming districts from St. Louis are reasonable, our city being most fortunate in having our great river and its tributaries protecting us in this matter especially.

Seventh. One of the strongest inducements to cotton manufacturers to locate in St. Louis is the fact that the Cotton Factors and Cotton Dealers carry here a stock of from 75,000 to 100,000 bales all the year, and the manufacturer can buy his cotton from week to week and in this manner save a large amount in insurance, storage and interest for carrying his own stock for consumption.

In the above statement I have not referred to the freight on the Mississippi River on Cotton to St. Louis. The Anchor Line of steamers plying from this port to New Orleans have offered to contract the year round to bring raw cotton in bales from points between New Orleans and Vicksburg for $1 per bale, from Vicksburg to St. Louis for 75 cents per bale. We are thus as well located for handling the cotton as any town in the midst of Georgia, Mississippi or Texas.

One-tenth of the entire cotton crop of the United States will pass through and be handled in St. Louis this season. The fact that 935,000 bales of cotton finds its natural road to consumption through our city is self-evidence of our strong position and is a double assurance of a great growth for St. Louis as a cotton market.

If you are at all interested in this matter, our committee will be much pleased to hear from you, feeling assured, as they do, that we are now offering inducements for the manufacturing and building up of a great cotton industry in this, the largest and most central distributing city in the Mississippi Valley, that rarely occurs during a lifetime. Very truly yours,

JEROME HILL.

St. Louis, Mo., June 1, 1895.

CARS TOOK FIRE.

At Least One Man Killed in a Freight Wreck.

KANE, Pa., June 11.—A bad freight wreck occurred at 1 o'clock this morning three miles east of here. A heavily-loaded east-bound freight train on the Philadelphia and Erie while running at a good rate of speed was ditched and nineteen cars piled up. A car of oil was in the wreck and took fire immediately. The fluid spread to the wreckage, and nineteen cars were soon ablaze. One man was killed. He is supposed to be a boiler maker from Erie who was beating his way. It is thought there are others in the wreck, but nothing can be done until the fire is extinguished. A brakeman sustained a fractured ankle. A 16-year-old boy who was in the same car with the man killed escaped without injury. He says there were others in the car with them, but no trace of them can be found. It is believed they are buried in the ruins. Wrecking trains have been ordered to the scene and the work will be heavy.

BARRED FROM THE MAILS.

Government's Wedding Present to "Wilson Foster of Paris."

FRAUD ORDER HAS ISSUED.

Artist Foster Denies That He Has Done Anything to Warrant the Summary Action Taken.

Wilson Foster, proprietor of what is extensively advertised as "Foster's Art College" at 1908 Olive street, was married at noon Monday to Miss Laura Hagin of Mascoutah, Ill. Just about the time the ceremony was being performed at the Second Presbyterian Church by Dr. Niccolls a "fraud order" was being issued against him by the Post-Office Department at Washington.

When Artist Foster arose Tuesday morning it was to find that the United States mails had been closed to him, and that if he wants to do any more business in "life-size crayons" and "beautiful engravings" he will have to do it without the aid of "Uncle Sam."

It was literally a case of "needles and pins, needles and pins, when a man's married his trouble begins." But the marriage was an incident and not a cause in Foster's case.

Foster is charged with using the mails for fraudulent purposes. The catalogue which he sends out is adorned by a cut of a building which gives the National Capitol a back seat. All the adjectives descriptive of high art are used profusely. It is a very attractive catalogue and it would be hard to locate the studio in St. Louis if the number of the street were not given.

Wilson's scheme is this. He has thirty-five traveling men on the road, who sell commutation tickets to country merchants at 10 cents each. These tickets represent purchases to the amount of $10. Foster enters into a contract that when the merchant has sold $10 worth of goods to any one customer the customer, upon the return of the ticket, properly punched is entitled to a life-size crayon for 60c, a life-size pastel for $1 and "a beautiful engraving" free. The scheme is a plausible one and it worked to perfection. It was very easy to convince a country merchant that by paying $10 for 100 tickets he could largely increase his trade by offering, as an inducement to each customer who bought $10 worth of merchandise, a crayon for 60 cents and a fine engraving.

The success of the plan is shown by Foster's statement that he has thirty-five traveling men out now, and has sold 700,000 tickets in the last year. He says 200,000 of them were sold in St. Louis.

MISSOURI NEGROES.

State Organization Formed at the Kansas City Convention.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 11.—About 150 negro delegates from cities and towns of Missouri assembled in Turner Hall yesterday morning for the purpose of forming a State organization having for its purpose the intellectual, social and political advancement of the negro race. Silas Harris of Kansas City called the convention to order. Nelson C. Crews of Kansas City was temporary Chairman, and K. M. South and George W. Day temporary secretaries. Mayor Webster Davis delivered an address of welcome, which was responded to by A. J. Love of St. Joseph. Committees were appointed and addresses were made by Maj. William Warner, J. H. Harkless, President of the State League of Republican Clubs; Alderman W. W. Morgan and others.

"Negro Citizenship," "Negro Churches and What They Are Doing," "Politics and Political Parties," were some of the subjects discussed by the delegates. The permanent officers elected are:

President, Dr. J. R. A. Crossland of St. Joseph.

First Vice-President, G. W. Dupre of Cole County.

Second Vice-President, T. W. H. Williams of Kansas City.

Secretary, J. L. Cohron of St. Louis.

Assistant Secretaries, J. S. Harris and G. W. Day of Kansas City, and M. D. Wise of Westport.

TWO REPORTS READ.

Lutheran Conference Considers Publication, Society and Auditing Work.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., June 11.—The report of the Board of Publication Society, Lutheran Evangelical Church, was read by Secretary S. A. Holman at the Hagerstown conference to-day. It stated that while the sales for the year just closed had not yielded as large a result as those of several years previous, the church and the board nevertheless had cause for congratulation for what they had been able to accomplish. Since last biennial report they had earned for and credited the General Synod for royalties on books of various kinds $2,073; donated as per resolution of the board, as extra discount on periodicals published by Sunday-schools under the care of the Board of Home Missions, $2,365; deducted and charged off from the face value of stereoptic plates, under the 10 per cent rule adopted by the board in 1878, $1,520; charged off for "wear and tear" of store and board-room fixtures, $143; charged off to profit and loss on account for doubtful accounts, $443, making a total of $6,545. While the net profits are reduced by the above amount, $2,073 of it for royalties has been saved to the Treasury of the General Synod, and $2,366 to the Sunday-schools under the care of the Board of Home Missions, a total of $4,430, which with the $9,000 passed into the treasury of the society aggregate a saving of $13,489 to the church because it has its own publication house.

The Auditing Committee reported that it had examined the books and securities of the Treasurer, Joseph Stulb. The amount held by him as treasurer is $40,350. The net assets of the house are $67,992. This amount added to the $40,350 in the hands of the treasurer, gives $108,342 as the total net assets of the society.

The board has decided that the Sunday-school Herald cannot support itself as a weekly, and accordingly will make no change in the issue.

ILLINOIS TREASURY BARE.

The Last Legislature Did Not Cut According to Its Cloth.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 11.—The State is threatened with an empty treasury. The last Legislature made a low tax levy which made the rate only 31 cents on the $100 valuation, but unfortunately it did not scale down the appropriations to fit. Taxpayers have therefore no cause for congratulation on the low rate since they will have to make up the dificiency hereafter. The rate on the levy for 1895 and 1896 as made by the present Legislature, will be 40 cents per $100 valuation.

The levy made by the last Legislture for general revenue purposes was only $3,000,000. The appropritions for two years aggregated $9,000,000. A statement by the Auditor is to the effect that from all sources the sole resources of the State, collected and to be collected up to next April, when the 1895 taxes will begin to come in, will not exceed $3,000,000 with which to meet appropriations of $4,000,000. The probability is that before fall the State Treasurer will have to quit paying warrants.

The House Committee on Finance after hearing the report of the Assistant State Treasurer decided on a levy of $2,200,000 for general revenue purposes, and $1,000,000 school fund, for each of the years 1895 and 1896.

THE VON BORCKE SUICIDE.

An Inquest Fails to Bring Out a Motive for Self-Destruction.

Deputy Coroner Peter Heib held an inquest Tuesday morning on the body of Georgiana Von Borcke, the young woman who was found dying in the Wainwright building by a scrub-girl. The verdict rendered was that of suicide.

The first witness was Charles A. Von Borcke, the girl's stepfather. He testified that the girl was 34 years old, single, a bookkeeper in his place of business and a resident at Mrs. Filbert's home at Wells Station. For the past three months he had noticed that she changed a great deal, so much so that he thought her demented.

Sunday morning at his office she asked him to allow her to go to Milwaukee. He refused because she was too ill. He wanted her to go to the country and strengthen up first.

He left the office at 1 p. m., asking her to come to dinner. She refused. He then asked her to go with him to Concordia Park. She said she might come down. He did not see her again until at the hospital.

Jake Frein, he said, was simply a family friend, with whom his daughter had no love affair.

Kittie Dolson testified to finding the body and to her efforts to arouse the dying girl. Millie Spencer, another girl, corroborated their testimony.

Henry G. Tully, engineer of the Wainwright Building, testified to calling Dr. Irwin and the ambulance for the suffering girl.

Walter Jacob Frein, to whom the deceased left a letter, said he was only a family friend. He had known the girl three years and had taken her out occasionally, simply for amusement. He also thought she had become demented in the last few months. The fact that Mrs. Filbert had scolded her for staying out until 11 o'clock seven months ago greatly worried her, he said. She had lately been making arangements to live with the witness' family.

The post-mortem examination showed arsenic poison in the stomach. It also showed that she had been a good girl.

PLANNING CONSOLIDATION.

Effort to Unite Commercial Bodies With the Business Men's League.

The consolidation of several of the minor commercial bodies, under the protecting wing of the Business Men's League is being considered by the Executive Committee of that body. A special meeting has been called for June 21, at which the following amendment to Art. 1 of the constitution will be voted upon.

"Individuals, firms or corporations may enjoy the facilities furnished by any other department or committee that may be created from time to time without becoming members of the League, upon the payment of a sum to be fixed by the Executive Committee, provided that such payment shall not be less than $25 nor more than $50.

The object of this amendment is to bring about a league of commercial bodies devoted to the advancement of the interests of St. Louis.

The only body the League has in view now is the St. Louis Spanish Club, but if a successful coalition is accomplished with that body, advances will be made to the Builders' Exchange, the Furniture Board of Trade and similar bodies.

ST. MALO, France, June 11.—News has been received here of the abandonment on fire and with her passengers on board of a British vessel, the Why Not, bound for the Island of Jersey, and loaded with fodder. The crew of the Why Not, it appears, deserted the passengers when the vessel caught fire, and taking to the boats, succeeded in landing at Erquy, Department of the Cotes du Nord, not far from here. These are all the particulars obtainable. The fate of the passengers of the Why Not is not known.

Austria's Policy.

VIENNA, June 11.—Count Coluchowski, the successor of Count Kalnoky as Imperial Minister for Foreign Affairs, made his first declaration of policy to-day. After a pleasant allusion to his predecessor he said he would continue the same policy and maintain the peaceful alliance of the three central European powers as the course best adapted to foster the friendship of the other powers.

BEGINS HIS SENTENCE.

Debs, With His Associates, Taken to Jail at Woodstock.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Eugene V. Debs reported to the United States Marshal at noon to-day and signified his readiness to begin his term of imprisonment with the other officials of the American Railway Union. He and the others were given their liberty until this afternoon, when all but Geo. W. Howard were taken to Woodstock, Ill., where they are to be confined. Howard had asked to be taken to the jail at Joliet and his request was granted. The prisoners are: Eugene V. Debs, George W. Howard, Sylvester Keliher, L. W. Rogers, James Hogan, Wm. E. Burns, Roy M. Goodwin, Martin J. Elliott.

Debs is under two sentences of six months each and the other two sentences of three months each for contempt, but it is doubtful if they will serve more than one sentence, as an effort will be made to have reinstated the former order making the sentences concurrent.

ROBBED AND MURDERED.

Brutal Killing of Albert McPeck, a Wealthy Indian Territory Farmer.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

FORT SMITH, Ark., June 11.—The story of a most brutal crime comes from Bartlesville, I. T. Albert McPeck, a prosperous farmer, had been in town buying provisions and on his way home was overtaken, it is said, by Ed McKinney and Henry Hoffman, who demanded money. McPeck parleyed with them and they lassoed him, pulled him down into the bed of his wagon, beat him and cut him with razors and took his money. After releasing McPeck his assailants returned and shot him almost in sight of home. He lived almost twenty-four hours and gave the names of his murderers. McKinney is a noted horse-thief and has served three terms. Both men are at large.

Attacked by Col. Runkle on the Street in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 11.—Col. A. Lowden Snowden, ex-United States Minister to Greece, ex-Superintendent of the United States Mint, and a member of the Union League, was assaulted last night while walking on Market street by Col. W. M. Runkle, a prominent military man of this city, who was an officer of the 3d Pennsylvania Artillery during the war. Col. Runkle was to-day held in bail for court. He alleges that Col. Snowden was instrumental in having him discharged from the Mint about two years ago, and he has had a grievance against him ever since. Col. Snowden is not dangerously injured.

Creve Coeur Drying Up.

The annual shrinkage in the Creve Coeur lakes has set in. The smaller basin on the Colorado line is almost a marsh. The lakes are fed by a live stream that trickles across St. Louis County from the Missouri. It is said that some one has dammed up this supply. Farmers who would profit by it deny the statement.

GUILTY OF ADULTERY.

Attorney J. R. Sheperd Figures in the Crowell Divorce Verdict.

NEW YORK, June 11.—A verdict granting an absolute divorce to Charles E. Crowell was returned by a jury in the Queens County Court. Sheperd, a lawyer, whose name came prominently before the public in connection with correspondence published in the presidential campaign of 1884.

AN AMERICAN YACHT.

The Vessel of the Revolutionists Carries Six Gatling Guns.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The Cuban revolutionists' agents in Florida for the purchase of war materials and ships for expeditions lately bought an American steam yacht 120 feet long, of a 1,000 tons register and with a speed of sixteen and a half knots an hour. It was this yacht, it is said, that took from Tampa last week the expedition headed by Carlos Roloff and Serafin Sanchez which is reported to have landed at Sagua La Chiquita. The yacht was bought for $50,000. She carried six Gatling guns.

Sanchez was born in Santo Esperita, Cuba, on July 2, 1846. He joined the last revolution in January of 1869. In the same year he fought under Gen. Honorato Castillo and Gen. Angel. In 1870 he fought with Col. Dorago. In 1838 he was under Maximo Gomez. In 1874 he was made a captain. In 1879 he was a brigadier. In August, 1880, he left Cuba and went to Key West, where he has since lived.

Carlos Roloff was born in 1838. When the revolution broke out in 1868 in Yara he was one of the first to enlist. He rendered great service to the revolution, remaining in the field the whole ten years. Since the war he has been quite poor. The Spanish Government offered him a position, but he refused to accept any favors from Spain. He lived several years in Honduras. He married in Teguigalpa a sister of Thomas Esterade Palma's wife.

Olney and Harmon Attend the Tuesday Session.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—All the members of the Cabinet with the exception of Secretary Herbert and Postmaster-General Wilson were present at the meeting to-day. Attorney-General Harmon accompanied by his predecessor, now Secretary of State, Olney, were among the first to arrive at the White House. They walked over from the State Department, where Mr. Harmon had been sworn in. The President presented the new Attorney-General to the other members of the Cabinet as they entered. Mr. Olney had little business to consider from the State Department of Justice to bring before the Cabinet. The session, however, was quite protracted, as the President desired to close up all business possible so that he might be able to go to Gray Gables.

Light Rainfall in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Io., June 11.—The Iowa weather crop bulletin issued to-day says: Warm, growing weather prevailed during the past week. The average daily temperature was about two degrees above normal. The rain fall was generally light until Sunday, on which day heavy showers passed through the central districts from southwest to northeast, giving ample rainfall for present needs to at least three-fourths of the area of the State. In some localities the showers were phenomenally heavy and possibly occasioned some damage to crops by washing and covering, but the rains on the whole have been highly beneficial to all crops.

Corn is now generally in clean condition and shows a good stand, giving promise of a large crop with favorable conditions in the future.

Oats, barley, spring wheat, potatoes and flax are generally reported in good condition. Pastures are improving. Small fruits are doing better than was expected.

Rain Saves Nebraska's Crops.

OMAHA, Neb., June 11.—Two inches of rain has covered the entire State in the past forty-eight hours. Fields of grain which had been abandoned as ruined, which had been so parched that a match would have kindled a serious conflagration, have revived and will in most cases make a full crop. The growth has been something remarkable and most of the fields might be harvested, if matured, to-morrow.

Rivers and irrigation ditches are running full and crops can be made without another rain during June.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

LIBERTY, Mo., June 11.—The notorious Anna D. Bellah, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses from Lemuel S. Lincoln by means of a bogus draft on the Quaker City National Bank of Philadelphia, was brought here from Chillicothe, for trial, and this morning Col. William H. Woodson, Prosecuting Attorney, entered a nolle prosequi on account of the refusal of the cashier of the bank to attend, and Judge Broddus ordered her discharged. She was immediately arrested by the Sheriff of Clinton County on a similar charge and will be taken there. Mrs. Bellah still has a distinguished appearance, notwithstanding her long stay in jail. She wore a black silk, stylish dress and kid gloves and was accompanied by her son.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 11.—A special from Toronto to the Rochester Herald says: Peter Ryan, president and financial backer of the Toronto Base Ball Club, has severed his connection with the club, and Manager Maddock is vainly endeavoring to interest a number of local capitalists to take over the Toronto franchise in the Eastern League. Maddock is given until noon Tuesday to find backing and if he fails, it is probable that John Chapman, who offered to provide the necessary capital, will take charge of the club. The club will continue to play its schedule games.

THE MARKETS.

Heavy rains and floods are reported in Kansas and Nebraska, with some interruption to wheat harvest in former State.

Liverpool received past three days 410,000 bu wheat, of which 90,000 bu from this country and 55,000 bu corn.

A letter from Wichita, Kan., reports the sale of all old wheat at 90c the writer had, and could have sold much more; also the claim that Kansas could not possibly raise one-third of a crop.

Full reports for the Iowa and Missouri lines of the C., B. & Q. show most flattering crop prospects. Oats and wheat are assured, and promise large yields. Average is 5 percent larger than last last year. Corn acreage 15 per cent larger and growing rapidly.

Abel Ray of Paris writes under date May 31 to John Milliken: Weather been so favorable wheat prospects still further improved. So fine are prospects that farmers are selling freely, indicating, too, the last crop was very large. The plant is earing around Paris, and reports are good or very good. Their prices are about 28c per bu lower than on this side, and wheat could be exported to neighboring countries if the duty on foreign wheat could be rebated and allowed on native wheat exported, as is the case with native flours.

ON 'CHANGE.

WHEAT—Not a buyer was in evidence this morning until July was 1c lower. Then they showed up on every side and very shortly were clamorous in their demands, the pressure to buy being so keen that the market advanced 2⅝c for July and 2c for Sept. From this there was 1⅛c relapse, but the close was firm and ½c above yesterday.

The percentage of 71.1 as the condition of winter wheat was so much higher than the trade had looked for, that, in conjunction with the very high condition of 97.8 for spring wheat, the effect was to create considerable bearish sentiment and thus a strong pressure to sell, some of which was for long account. But others who had closely analyzed the government report saw how extremely low was the condition of surplus winter wheat States east of the Rockies and considered the acreage reported standing June 1 as entirely too high, were keen to buy on any decline. In their eagerness to absorb the early offerings they turned prices upward, the demand then becoming more and more urgent and finally running completely away with the market. Other bullish factors are the continued hot dry weather east of the Mississippi, with some deplorable crop news for that section, advices of disappointing yields in different localities where harvest going on and advices of damage in California by hot dry winds. The foreign markets exhibited a quiet tone, and Liverpool ½d lower for red winter, but latest statement on world's shipment to Europe placed the total nearer 9,000,000 bu, where it was announced as 12,000,000 bu yesterday.

The day's clearances were small—in flour and wheat from four ports, 243,000 bu—whereas receipts were good—of winter wheat at Western markets, 95,000 bu, against 47,000 one year ago, and 277 cars spring wheat in the Northwest, against 236. When Bradstreet's decrease of 3,500,000 bu in this country's available and of 3,835,000 bu in the world's stock was posted, the effect was stimulating also.

Spot grades—Higher, with bids on Call for No. 2 red of 83c for regular, 83½c for United and none offered below 86c. A better inquiry was noted to-day, coming from parties holding orders from outside mills.

The late cables were not favorable, generally reporting declines abroad. The pressure to buy let up, also, and domestic markets let down. The result was a weaker feeling and decline late in the session.

Futures—July opened at 80c and sold to 82⅝c off to 81⅝c, closing at 81⅛c bid. Sept opened at 79½c and sold to 81½c to 80⅝c, closing at 80½c.

Samples—Received, 758 sks, 26 cars local. Higher and quick sale at 1@2c advance, local millers cleaning up the offerings at an early hour and not quibbling over the price at all. Sacked lots sold at 86c for off stock to 86½@87c for prime to choice. Car lots East track at 86½c spot and 86c to arrive for No. 2; this side at 83c for No. 2 hard.

This demand was for spot and bid 3¼c above July for f. o. b. E. side, the basis No. 2 red offered at and refused yesterday, but to-day ⅛c more than that asked. Sales made were a few cars at 85c East and 85½c this side and 6,250 bu this side at 86½c, all f. o. b.

CORN—Speculation was too deeply engrossed in wheat to give much attention to any other market, and the result was future trading in corn was small and desultory. The market itself did not possess any particularly interesting features, anyway. Most of the crop advices were very flattering and the prospects just now are for an immense crop. But, while wheat was booming, no one cared to sell on crop prospects, so that offerings were small and the demand small, as it was advanced prices. Receipts were still small at all Western markets, being 156,000 bu, against 302,000 one year ago. The early cable reported Liverpool ½d lower and the four ports' clearances were only 41,500 bu. Bradstreet's increase of 908,000 bu was somewhat larger than the change in the regular visible.

Spot Grades—Lower and dull. On call nothing but an accumulative demand. No. 2 offered regular at 48⅝c, bid 47⅞c and for E. side 47⅞c bid. No. 2 white offered regular at 49c, bid 48c E. side. Lower grades neglected.

Samples—Received 2,038 sks, 10 cars local. Fully ½c lower and dull at the decline, as no buyers save local and their wants very light. Sacked lots sold at 49c for yellow and more offered and untaken at that, colory 50@49½c. Track this side—No. 2 at 48¼c. Sacked lots on orders, 57@58c for mixed.

The early firmness finally disappeared and weakness took its place, being especially marked late in the session. Then all markets were declining and the selling locally became so pressing that prices went off 1⅛c for July and ¾@⅞c for Sept. The close was 1c for July and ⅝c for Sept below yesterday.

Futures—July sold at 49¼c to 48c, and latter bid at close. September sold at 50½c to 50⅝c to 49⅝c.

After call a few cars No. 2 sold E. side at 48c (½c decline) and 50,000 bu in Crescent was taken for shipment by rail to the seaboard, but terms kept private.

Oats—The government report indicated a crop of 711,000,000 bu, or about 50,000,000 bu more than a year ago, which started the market in ¼c lower, but it rallied on recoveries elsewhere and drought and hot weather complaints. Bradstreet's decrease of 39,000 bu was a strengthening feature also.

The recovery of ⅜c was not held to, and later came a run-down in price on rather urgent selling that caused ⅝c decline. The close saw sellers ⅝c below yesterday.

Futures—September sold at 29⅝c to 30¼c to 29⅝c, and latter asked at close. June sold at 29⅝c. July was offered late at 29¼c.

Spot grades—Firm, with buyers of No. 2 at 29½c on call, but none offered.

Samples—Received, 10 cars local, 4 through. A very strong market, and tendency upward, the top prices of yesterday being easily obtainable. Demand, while not extensive, was sharp, and fair sales made. In special bin—Mixed in prospect at 31c. Track this side—No. 2 at 30¼@30⅜c, Northern mixed at 31c, No. 3 white at 32½@32¾c, No. 2 white at 33@33¼c. East track—No. 2 at 30¼@30½c, No. 3 white at 32⅝c. Skd lots on orders 37@38c for mixed.

After call 5,000 bu No. 2 sold for June at 29⅝c, but delivered at once, making it really cash.

HAY.

Received, 520 tons; shipped, 100 tons. The market to-day is decidedly strong for anything in timothy of the fancy order, and fully $1 per ton higher, which was readily paid by buyers, and not nearly enough offered to satisfy the urgent demand. With the scarcity of timothy and no prospects for any increase in receipts buyers will undoubtedly have to meet the asking prices of sellers, who are holding firm at higher figures than sales reported to-day.

Prairie is a little more active, but at unchanged prices. Clover is steady for bright stock.

Sales: Track and Warehouse—This side—Prairie—1 car strictly choice at $9, 2 fancy at $9.50, 4 strictly do at $10. Timothy—1 car prime at $12, 4 do at $12.50, 4 do at $13, 8 strictly prime to choice (large-baled) at $13.50, 4 strictly choice (1½ baled and 3 large-baled) at $14; 7 strictly choice to fancy (2 to arrive) at $15.

East side—Clover—1 car mixed at $11, 1 do at $11.25. Mixed—1 car at $12. Timothy—2 cars nice at $11, 4 prime at $12, 1 do at $12.50, 1 strictly do at $13, 2 choice at $14, 1 extra fancy on p. t.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 11.—Wheat started irregularly at from ⅛c lower to unchanged to-day, and soon became steady slightly above last night's closing figures. The steadyness of the cables was an element of strength, indicating that the foreigners do not take a bear view of the Government report. The continuation of the hot, dry weather in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio also helped the price. July opened at 79½@80c, touched 80¾c and reacted to 80¼c. Corn started weak, but firmed up later with wheat. July opened ⅛c lower at 52c and sold to 52¼c. Oats were weak on the large acreage shown by the crop report. September opened ½c lower at 30⅛c, sold from 30⅛c to 30c, and reacted to the opening price. Provisions were easy on lower prices for live hogs. September pork opened 7½c lower at $12.85. September lard sold at $6.80 and ribs at $6.50.

CROPS PARCHED.

Bad Outlook on South Central Illinois Farms.

CLAY CITY, Ill., June 11.—The weather continues excessively hot and dry here. The crop outlook is becoming serious on account of chinch bugs and the continued drouth. Many fields of wheat are being cut for feed, it being so poorly filled that it will not pay to thresh. The meadows and pastures are rapidly drying up and unless copious rains come soon the oats will be so short that it will be impossible to save them, as they are beginning to head when only from four to six inches high. Many fields of corn have already been destroyed by the chinch bugs, and only plenty of rain will prevent an entire destruction of the crop by this pest. The number of bushels of wheat threshed in this county this year will not exceed the amount sown last fall. This is no calamity howl, but a fair statement of facts gleaned from personal observation and interviews with intelligent farmers.

COMMITTED AS INSANE.

A Woman Who Attempted to Make Cases Against Saloons.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 11.—A young, good-looking woman, who gave her name as Mrs. Ida Colton, took a hand in spotting saloons Sunday. When her case came up in Essex Market Police Court yesterday, one prisoner was held, but the Justice showed that New York Justices have not gotten out from under the influence of the saloon power, for not only were the remaining prisoners discharged, but Justice Burke told the woman that she was held for examination into her sanity. At this the poor creature burst out sobbing and crying. Patrolman Berkeley seized her by the arms and roughly began to drag her away. Then scream after scream arose as Mrs. Colton, realizing the horror of her position, struggled with those who were taking her to the cells:

"I'm not mad," she cried. "I'm not mad—only trying to do good for other women with husbands and sons."

In the prison she went into a violent fit of hysteria and remained in that condition until the ambulance from Bellevue Hospital came and rattled her off to the hospital.

"She gave a false address; didn't know the proper location of the church to which she said she belonged, and could not tell ginger ale from beer," said Justice Burke, in substance, when asked why he had committed her to Bellevue.

"She looked like a woman who had been drinking heavily for a long time."

"Aw, she looked like a battered, torn, bedraggled, drunken old rounder—nearly tore the tail off of my coat," said Patrolman Berkeley, the court officer who took her to the cells.

But when a Post-Dispatch man, in company of Warden O'Rourke, entered the Insane Pavilion, he saw a pale, slenderly-built little woman, with long, brown hair, frightened blue eyes, swollen by weeping, and a delicate oval face in which refinement and purity seemed manifest.

"Those who say that this woman looks like a drunkard are all wrong," said Mr. O'Rourke.

At the sound of the Post-Dispatch man's voice the woman's hysterical sobbing ceased. She began to tell her story:

"Send to my cousin at No. 2414 First avenue," she said. "His name is Joseph Burke. He'll save me." Then, as she began to explain why she had started in the crusade, Warden O'Rourke interfered, and she was taken away.

"I have not made an examination," said Dr. Allen Fitch, the medical examiner at Bellevue. "Mrs. Colton does not talk or act like an irrational person, but I cannot express any decided opinion just now."

It is supposed that Mrs. Colton is employed by women reformers to get evidence, and through shame is concealing her identity.

POSTMEN ON WHEELS.

Growing Use of the Bicycle in the Distribution of the Mails.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Modern appliances for hastening work is being rapidly adopted by the Post-office Department. In addition to trolley cars in the various cities, the encouraging the use of the bicycle by individual carriers both in delivering and collecting mails, wherever the condition of the streets and roads make it probable that a saving of time will be effected.

Scarcely a day passes without requests being received from one or more postmasters that the carriers attached to their offices be permitted to use bicycles and to retain as an offset to the cost the car fares now given to them. In every case the department declines to permit the diversion of the car fares for the purpose stated, but agrees to grant a certain sum, ranging from $1 to $3 per month, to each carrier, to be applied to repairs for his wheel. During the winter months, or in any month when the carrier gives up the use of his wheel, he again receives car fare for his transportation.

Although the department favors the use of bicycles, when the conditions are favorable it does not in any case require their use.

The wheels are favored especially for collectors and carriers delivering letters in the suburbs. The cities having the best pavements naturally have the largest number of bicycle carriers. In Buffalo, Cleveland, Washington and Grand Rapids they are gradually coming into general use.

The plan of having the wheels owned by the Government instead of by the carriers was tried about seven years ago in this city and was abandoned after a fair test. It was found impossible to get the carriers to keep their wheels in proper order, and the cost of repairs soon became too great.

Cattle for Indian Prisoners.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 11.—Gen. Merritt of the Department of the Missouri has arranged to purchase $10,000 worth of cattle at Fort Sill on Saturday next to be given to the Indian prisoners of war at that post, comprising the remnant of Geronimo's warlike Apache band. The recent session of Congress appropriated $15,000 to be expended in putting the band to work on the farm lands about the reservation. Though still considered prisoners of war the members of the band have as much freedom as any other reservation Indian. Since their confinement, now running over a period of nearly ten years, the members of the band have lost much of their old spirit, and Geronimo is represented to be a quiet, docile old man.

French-Russian Alliance.

NEW YORK, June 11.—A special to a local paper from Paris says: It was learned on good authority that the terms of the French-Russian alliance, referred to for the first officially in the speech of the Foreign Secretary Honotaux, before the Chamber will be made public after the Kiel festivities. The Czar, in fact, declared that if France would send a fleet to the opening of the Baltic Canal, he would consent that the terms of the alliance should be made public.

TURNED TO THE WALL.

Bishop Tanner's Proposed Inovation in Communion Service.

BOSTON, Mass., June 11.—Bishop Tanner presided at the last day's session of the A. M. E. conference and all went well until the conference voted down Dr. Roberts' motion to indorse the Bishop's action in the communion services in using a towel to wipe a communicant's mouth before sipping the wine. Dr. Roberts offered the motion.

Bishop Tanner explained it and a brother delegate strongly opposed it as it was only a half-way measure in promotion of sanitary principles. The Bishop put the motion and declared it passed, although a storm of negative answers were heard. Immediately on his declaration of its passage several delegates jumped to their feet and asked the Bishop what he meant by his proceedings. Again the Bishop put the question and the motion was lost by such an overwhelming vote that the Bishop was constrained to break forth in a hasty exclamation, and with a loud voice he said: "I never thought that the New England conference, situated in the home of progress, would turn to the wall any such measure for advancement as this is."

BUTCHERS COMBINE.

New York Meatshop Men to Fight the Big Wholesalers.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Two hundred butchers have formed a company to be known as the Consumers' Veal and Mutton Co., and, while the capital stock is only $30,000, upward of $6,000,000 is represented in the enterprise. Directors have been elected and the company will begin to do business immediately. The slaughter-house of M. Heilman, Sons & Co. has been purchased outright for $6,000. Here the company will slaughter mutton, veal and lambs for its own and outside customers. The primary object of the combination is to combat the big wholesale houses.

Unfit for Dogs to Eat.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The Department of Agriculture has received from France an extended notice of the condemnation by the Municipal chemist of Paris of a compound which is being sold in France under the name of American lard. The chemist has ascertained that the compound consists of hog offal treated chemically at a high temperature and under strong pressure. It is deodorised and bleached with chlorides. The Journal Des Debats, a Parisian newspaper of prominence, denounces this compound sold in France under the name of American lard as unfit even for dogs to eat. The authorities at the Agricultural Department know nothing of this alleged American product and intimate it may not be American at all.

McNichols' Treasures

So many rich and costly wares—
Bright carpets, sofas, hassocks, chairs—
Rare woods in newest style and make—
You are not forced one kind to take.
Such beds, as only kings might own,
More restful than a velvet throne,
And curtains of chenille or lace
Could drape and soften any place.

And dishes! What a goodly show!
Hand-painted—prices high or low—
Fine glassware, glittering in the sun,
Like water in a torrent spun;
Pictures to rest the eye and brain;
Pictures to banish thoughts of pain;
Lamps shimmering 'neath a gauzy shade—
Of things like these His homes are made!

You need no heavy purse to buy—
He sells to folks like you or I;
He's here to aid the struggling man
With this, his new installment plan,
And if the meaning you would seek,
Learn of small payments by the week;
'Tis private, confidential, plain,
And soon you own your own domain!

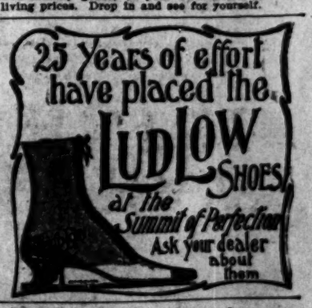

Surely 'tis better than to board,
Or, miserly, your gold to hoard;
Your wife and children will be blest
To have their own wee downy nest.
The bills you pay will be so small—
In some few weeks you've finished all—
Then, oh, what happiness—relief—
And change from cold discomfort—grief!

You'll find it so. Now is a good time to begin this experiment. Make a home! See (Trade-mark.) THE ONLY M'NICHOL,
